JONES IN SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

Resident Of Ward Three For 29 Years Seeks City School Post

E. F. Jones, past commander of the L. B. Faulk American Legion Post and a resident of Ward three for 29 years, announced his candidacy yesterday for member of the Monroe City School Board.

Mr. Jones, who lives at 116 Paragon Drive, decided to seek election to the school board after being requested to do so by many of his friends.

He is presently distributor for Cities Service Oil Company products in Ouachita parish with offices located at Ninth and Olive streets.

Believing that our schools are the greatest assets in our community, Mr. Jones pledges his full support to the cause of education as he has given it in the past.

Members of Mr. Jones' family include his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Betty Sue Glid, who attended Monroe City schools and is a graduate of Neville High School.

PASSMAN SEES FLOOD FUNDS

He And McClellan Have High Hopes Of $60,000 Minimum

Congressman Otto E. Passman, member of the United States House of Representatives Appropriations Committee and president of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association, stated that after a conference with Senator John McClellan of Arkansas, who is a member of the United States Senate Appropriations Committee and vice-president of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association, they had high hopes of obtaining a minimum of $60 million for the lower Mississippi valley for the new fiscal year.

Passman stated it was essential that $4 million be allocated for the completion of the Morganza control structure. He said when the control structure had been completed, in the event of extremely high water in the lower parishes of the fifth district, that use of the control structure would lower the headwater by a minimum of two and one-half feet.

Passman stated that under the allocation program for new funds there would be $1,700,000 to continue the work on the Boeuf, Tennessee, LaFourche projects. He further stated that there would be allocated $1,285,000 for the protection levee in Concordia parish, and

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—A special United States mission with a $100 million bankroll will go to Madrid in a few weeks to negotiate with Generalissimo Francisco Franco for naval and air bases in Spain.

Officials said today the bases are desired on a standby basis for use if and when needed. Large installations such as the United States is building in French Morocco, North Africa are not planned. But even the limited facilities to be negotiated with Spain will require extensive highway and rail development and probably considerable harbor dredging.

Indications are that whether the United States provides arms for Franco's military force probably will depend on what the Spanish leader insists on from his side of the bargaining table. But America can experts say that available American funds could most profitably be spent to meet more basic Spanish needs, such as roads. Certainly it appears that the United States will urge that arms deliveries should not get first priority.

Conferences on the United States' negotiating position have been going on for weeks among the State and Defense Departments and the

CHEST TO NAME SIX ON BOARD

Member Wants People To Send In Proposals For New Members

With the end of the Community Chest fiscal year approaching, six new board members will be elected in the near future for a three-year term of office, a representative of the board said yesterday.

"My purpose in making the announcement at this time (with 30 to 60 days left in the fiscal year)," the representative said, "is to hear suggestions from the people of Monroe on who they would like to see hold these offices."

The Community Chest is strictly the people's organization, and we would like to consider their recommendations for new officers at the next meeting of the board," he said.

Persons wishing to give nominations or recommendations to the board are requested to send them in writing to the Community Chest office in the Henninger Building in Monroe," he concluded.

The board is comprised of 18 members and six new members are elected to office at the end of each fiscal year for a three-year term.

Victory For States In Tideland Dispute Seen

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) predicted to-night the Senate will approve a bill, already passed by the House, to give the states title to the oil-rich submerged lands adjoining their shores.

But, he said, he expects President Truman to veto the bill, as he did a similar measure several years ago.

In event of such a veto, Ellender said in an address for broadcast over radio station WWL, New Orleans, he expects the House to override the veto "and it is my fervent hope that the Senate will do the same."

The Senate now is debating legislation which, while not deciding whether the states or federal government owns these submerged lands, gives the federal government the right to lease them for oil development—a right which the states now claim.

Senators who favor outright state ownership of the submerged lands are opposed to the pending bill, sometimes called "the interim bill." Some of these senators, including Ellender, are expected to support a move to substitute the state ownership bill, passed by the House last year.

Ellender said the term "interim" is a misnomer.

"I have no doubt but that once the government got its hands on the tidelands the battle for the return of these rightful state lands would be lost," he said.

"I think the past has shown us that Uncle Sam has very sticky fingers—once he gets them upon us, it's well nigh impossible to make him let go."

Ellender referred to the Supreme

WILL INSPECT WEST MONROE

Complete Sanitary Check-Up By Seven-Man Team Scheduled

Ortha T. Trapp, chief sanitarian with the Ouachita parish health unit, yesterday called on West Monroe residents to cooperate with a seven-man sanitary inspection team that will start a house-to-house survey in the city Monday.

Trapp said the survey would require more than two weeks to complete. He said that when the inspection was completed, "We'll have a pretty clear picture of the sanitary situation in West Monroe."

It was estimated that 2500 homes would be visited during the marathon inspection. Trapp said the health team would start touring the residential sections at 8 in the morning and work until 5 in the afternoon.

He said the inspection would involve routine matters and questions would be directed to residents somewhat as a census taker. "In fact, we'll have somewhat of a census report on West Monroe when the job is finished," Trapp said.

Steps were taken several weeks ago by the West Monroe city council to have thorough sanitary inspection performed in view of the complaints of unsanitary conditions in sporadic areas of the city.

Mayor Bell, in a letter to Ouachita Parish Health Director Carroll Summer, called on the health service to perform the task. Summer said last week that the task was of such magnitude that out-of-parish health officers were being called in to assist in the West Monroe inspection.

Health officers were called in from West Carroll, Concordia and Caldwell parishes to assist with the job.

Besides Trapp, Joe Collingsworth, Louie Lee and J. O. Green will work as part of the team from Ouachita parish. Health officers from the other parishes are: Charlie Hope, West Carroll; Ted Good, Concordia, and Sherwood Poole, from Caldwell parish.

The survey team will check these points of sanitation: water supply, sewer disposal, screening, mosquito control, rat infestation, animal maintenance, milk supply, and any unhealthy situation that may exist.

Shreveport Man Killed, 4 Injured In Accident

Reduction Of Air Power Is Probed

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—An intensive investigation into the administration's decision to slow down the pace of U. S. air power expansion was announced tonight.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) announced the inquiry by an armed services subcommittee on preparedness which he heads, and he said the public will be told "every fact that can be revealed without endangering our national security."

He said hearings, which will probably start March 31, will be open to the public as far as security permits. One chief purpose, he said, will be to get all the facts available on the relative production capacities of Soviet Russia and the United States.

Last Nov. 29 Johnson's watchdog group protested a "dangerous lag" in production of aircraft, tanks, ships, guns and other military items. Johnson urged "more guns and less butter."

Several other congressional committees, however, endorsed the mobilization program and said it was proceeding at a satisfactory pace.

Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson has defended it and so has Secretary of Defense Lovett, who testified last month that "in preparation against the dangers of a hot war, we must not be trapped

Czechs Use Jeep, Escape From Reds

VIENNA, Austria, March 8 (AP)—Inspired by the "Freedom Train," a party of six Czechoslovakians has arrived in Austria after a dramatic escape across the Morava river in an amphibious jeep.

They reached the Russian zone of Austria Feb. 27 and fled through the woods just as a pursuing party of 32 Communist border guards reached the Czech bank of the river.

The party was led by Ludvik Olarek, 35, former millionaire owner of a Bratislava construction company, who was dispossessed in 1948 by the Communists and put to work in the Czech National Bank.

He was accompanied by his wife, Katarina, a pretty dark-haired girl of 28 who escaped with only the clothes she wore, his three children, Stefan, four, Albinia, six, and Ludvik, eight, and a fellow employee of the Czech National Bank, Wenzel Kliestine.

Olarék's sister, Mrs. John Kliestine, lives in Little Neck, New York.

She got word to us that she was willing to help us financially if we can get to the United States," Olarek told a news conference here.

Olarék said he was inspired for his escape in his "Freedom Train" when he learned of the "Freedom Train" which crashed out into Germany with 110 Czechs last September. Of that number, 78 reluctantly returned.

"I bought a former German army amphibious jeep for 88,000 crowns ($1,760 at the legal exchange rate) last December. I had hidden a lot of cash when the Communists seized my property," he said.

"We worked on the jeep secretly for two months. It sank in the first tests, but we got in good working order."

On Feb. 27 he went to Devin, where the Morava joins the Danube. He timed himself to reach the Morava at a time when border guards were changing shifts.

But as they neared the river,

Olarék related, the "duck" stuck in the snow. While they were frantically shoveling, a man saw their intentions and raced away to a police patrol post nearby.

"We finally got the car free," Olarek said, "and dived madly into the river. We went in too fast; we were all soaked in freezing water, but managed to reach mid-stream.

"Then the motor went dead. We drifted about 200 yards down toward the Danube. We were frantic. If we went into the Danube, we would have had no chance."

"Finally, Kliestine got the motor working. As we reached shallow water, we saw the police approaching the Czech bank of the river. There was no time to take out our property. We dove into the reeds and the woods on the Austrian side and took off on foot. The border guards were just too late to fire."

"I want to go to the United States and work and learn English. When Europe needs me to fight for Czechoslovakia's freedom I will come back."

Apert from that wrangle, the negotiators appeared almost hopelessly deadlocked on two big issues and several lesser ones. The big issues were:

1. Whether Russia should be permitted to help supervise an armistice.

2. Whether the Chinese, North Koreans and South Koreans should be permitted to help supervise an armistice.

3. Whether the Chinese, North Koreans and South Koreans should be permitted to help supervise an armistice.

LAMKIN'S SHORT STORY PUBLISHED

A talented young novelist and short-story writer, Speed Lamkin, to whom Monroe stakes the first claim, has again endowed his indigenous clime by delineating, perceptively, the typical environment of South Louisiana in his fourth short-story, "Miss Mildred Is Real Sick," appearing in this month's Mademoiselle magazine.

Unlike previous short-stories such as "Comes a Day," winner of an O. Henry short-story prize, and "Out by the Country Club," both of which are narrated through the eyes of a child, "Miss Mildred" is observed from an adult viewpoint.

enveloped by mystery even at the conclusion, is an apparent trace of Henry James, that exponent of society's "characters," whose stories are thickly imbued with clues and mystery never stating definitely its denouement but leaving it to the surmise of the reader.

The author has evoked the essence of Louisiana romance by depicting native architecture, plants, society, and climate, all of which are calculated to conjure a languid atmosphere.

Mr. Lamkin has called upon his own background of "sophisticated society," and incorporated it with his own originality as is evidenced in such similes as: ". . . musty sweet olive trees posed like perfumed cavaliers on each side of the walk. . ." and ". . . a long, white thread caught in a thorn and drooping down, captured like an enemy flag."

Author of "Tiger in the Garden," named in the New York Herald Tribune best - seller list, and "Comes a Day," which is being adapted to the screen; Mr. Lamkin is now in the throes of writing his second novel, "Beverly Hills". He plans to remain in Monroe until his novel is completed.

Editorials and Comment

Hengover From NRA

During the late President Roosevelt's NRA days this country had two sets of laws, one contradicting the other. One set consisted of the anti-trust laws, which were enacted to prohibit price-fixing and to encourage free trade and competition. The other set was the NRA laws, which said that it was illegal and unfair for one person to sell anything below a price asked by someone else.

During that time stores were prohibited from offering "leaders" at reduced prices because it was illegal to sell merchandise below the price adopted by other merchants. This held true even when a produce merchant had on hand a lot of perishable stuff and wanted to sell it at a reduced price in order to get rid of it before it became a complete loss.

Finally the NRA was repealed but a lot of dealers liked its results so well that they continued to act under its provisions, even though the law was no longer in existence. The price-book habit had been adopted and it still persists.

Prior to establishment of price controls, which violated anti-trust laws during the NRA and still do, merchants and service businesses figured their operating costs and set their prices accordingly.

In this way a man who operated a garage in his back yard at the edge of town was able to do repair work a little cheaper than the big garage operators, because he had virtually no overhead expense, while the overhead of the big garage might run into thousands of dollars a month.

The little neighborhood garage operator catered to people living in his community who didn't have so much money to spend on auto repairs. He charged them a little less, based on his low-cost operation, and both he and the people got along pretty well. Now, if anyone drives into a neighborhood garage and asks how much a repair job will cost, the operator pays no attention to his own costs. He grabs a price book and sings out a price at least as high as that charged by the operator of a big, downtown garage. He is thoroughly a part of the price-fixing program.

Furthermore, many body shops have eliminated the practice of repairing damaged bodies, hoods, grills, bumpers and fenders. If one of these items is dented or bent it is simply removed and thrown away and another piece is put in its place.

A few days ago a large automobile bumped into another car at a slow rate of speed. The grill was pushed back a little and the fenders bent a little because of the pressure on the grill. There may have been some damage to the bumper, but if there was it was scarcely apparent. In the "good old days" the cost of straightening and welding these parts would have been $3 or $4. At present prices, it would have been about $15 to $20. The quoted price for this repair job was $300, which included replacing the slightly bent grill, fenders and bumper. The car was not new and a few years ago would have sold for less than $300 before the damage was incurred.

During the Roosevelt NRA-socialism days, the Louisiana legislature passed a law making it illegal for a barber shop to charge a price less than that fixed by other barbers. This law was contrary to the anti-trust laws of the United States and the Louisiana supreme court first declared it to be unconstitutional because of this fact. Later the Louisiana supreme court reversed itself and said that because the national government had passed laws which violated the still unrepealed anti-trust laws, the state of Louisiana could do the same thing.

The price-fixing NRA law later was repealed but the Louisiana law is still on the books.

Checked But Not Checkmated

Senator Byrd and others have pointed out that high administration spokesmen always pay lip service to the cause of economy in government and the elimination of all non-essential spending. But nothing tangible in the way of suggestions to achieve these ends is ever offered. Instead, the officials monotonously demand more and more costly schemes—such as compulsory government health insurance, the incredible Brannan plan for hog-tying agriculture, and so on.

The administration's continued advocacy of the health insurance scheme is particularly interesting. This has long been a special pet of the security agencies. They have propagandized it in every possible way. They have stormed the country, claiming that it is the only solution to our health problems.

Yet, despite all the high-pressure press agency, even some of the scheme's warmest backers admit that it has found small public approval—and much public opposition. Congress hasn't even troubled to bring it to a vote, it being a foregone conclusion that it would be buried under an avalanche of "Nays." But this hasn't discouraged its advocates. They are going right ahead in the hope that they'll slip it over on the country some day, in one form or another.

If that day ever comes, it will be a sad one for America. From the point of view of money, compulsory health insurance would cost the taxpayers $6,000,000,000 a year and probably much more. From the point of view of medical care, it would subject the doctors to the tender mercies of a huge bureaucracy whose powers would be steadily expanded. The politician would be the boss and the doctor would take the orders. Anyone can figure out what would happen to medical standards then.

The zealots who want all-powerful government have been checked—but they haven't been checkmated. Congress and the people must keep a watchful eye on them at all times.

Good News For The World

The Arabian American Oil Company, which is made up of a number of American concerns, is the world's largest oil producer. It has done a magnificent job in developing the vast oil resources of Saudi Arabia, and in bringing civilization to the Arabian people.

The enemies of free enterprise argue that such an endeavor as this is just a form of exploitation and economic imperialism—that the company's interest lies solely in getting the most for the least. So a recent change in the operational organization of Aramco is highly significant. The operating headquarters of the company has been transferred from New York to Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. The chairman of the board, the president and other high company officers will live there, and so will the great majority of all American employees of Aramco.

The retiring chairman, in making the announcement, said, "We have what is usually described as a 50-50 profit sharing arrangement with the Saudi Arab government and have always felt that the best interests of that country and of Aramco went hand-in-hand. We believe that by having more of our management group reside in Saudi Arabia we are acting in a spirit of partnership and cooperation which will benefit the economy of Saudi Arabia and the investments of private American capital in that country."

This will be welcome news in the capitals of the world where more and more emphasis is being placed on national self-expression and national ambitions. And it is another proof of the fact that the American oil industry, in its operations both here and abroad, fully realizes its responsibilities toward all with whom it deals.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

POLITICAL ACTION

For many years, it has been apparent that while thousands of books have been appearing on all phases of our political, social and economic problems, few, if any, have been published which set out to re-state American thought on these subjects. We have become so accustomed to the subordination of American interests to globalism and to Marxian sociology and Keynesian economics, that it is refreshing to read an American book.

Many journalistic efforts have been made in this direction, but what seemed to be most needed and desired is a work that combined scholarship, which is the ability to find and use data, with experience in practical matters, with a capacity for objective and constructive thinking.

Raymond Moley was, you may recall, engaged by Franklin D. Roosevelt to group together a number of brilliant minds to perform precisely such a feat. This was the original "brain trust" which Moley headed. His group, it would seem to me, were closest to this book than to what we have come to know as the New Deal. Mr. Roosevelt found it politically appropriate to move far from such guidance and accepted rather a program of fragmentizing the American people into elements of self-interest who would vote for him in subsequent elections. Mr. Moley then returned to Columbia University and the publication "Newsweek" leaving the New Deal just at the moment when it turned sharply to the left.

Moley has now published a book,

"How to Keep Our Liberty," which appears to me to be exactly the volume about America that I have been looking for. Moley, whom I would regard as a conservative, is certainly not a reactionary. He does not expect to discover a formula for bringing back the "good old days", whenever they might have been. But he says that there is an American way of doing things and that by those processes we built a very important and great nation. Since we have deserted those processes, we have come upon troubled times. He suggests a practical program for the achievement of social objectives without destroying the American way.

He lays this foundation for the discussion:

"The impairment of constitutional protections and our party system, the immense growth of federal power, the increasing dependence of millions of people upon government bounties, and the insidious attack of alien philosophies—all these are evidences of a threat to those republican institutions which collectively have been the shield of our liberty."

"The intervention of government in our economic and social life proceeds in what we may roughly call geometric progression. With each new encroachment upon the area of liberty, government grows more potent and liberty weaker. Ultimately, an unseen line is crossed, and resistance becomes impossible. The individual cannot regain his liberty, because his capacity for self-determination is exhausted. As a nation, we reach a point of no return."

The book has been so carefully prepared that while it is chock-full of studied data, it reads smoothly. But what pleases me most is that Moley does not leave his book at denunciation, complaint and pessimism, but builds a constructive program for the movement away from Statism and Socialism to the re-achievement of liberty through political action. He reaffirms the American way, which is neither the use of the political method of representative government. Parts three and four of this book are essential to anyone who really wishes to understand the America of 1952 and who wants to do something about it. Moley says:

"In a free society national goals are not fixed and attained by coercion, as they are in Soviet Russia. Liberty permeates the nation with a million forces; the achievement is unpredictable, and therein lies the zest of anticipation. As long as we are sure of the direction in which we are going and are sure of the motives and principles that guide us, we can anticipate a better life. That should be enough assurance for free men."

The motives of our current administration are doubted by most Americans and the direction of political purpose has become so confused that what seem to be errors of practice are in reality errors of direction. We have no targets. We have lost our direction."

This Raymond Moley seeks to set right in "How to Keep Our Liberty," and he does it with rare competence.

Charge 2 With Theft Of Car

Two men—Marvin Whitlock, 21, West Monroe, and Bailey Griffin, 26, Monroe, were in the parish jail late yesterday for the theft of a car, city police said.

The car, a 1950 Chevrolet owned by Boyd Helm, of New Orleans, was stolen Friday night about 12 p.m. from the parking lot in front of the Coronado Club on Louisville avenue, police said.

Griffin, who called city police and reported that the car was parked in front of his house, said he did not remember driving the stolen car. Whitlock voluntarily surrendered to police.

Both men were taken to city jail and later transferred to the parish jail. No bond had been posted late last night.

Schulman spends the time he has left from his business in following his own hobby.

"I collect stamps," he said, his eyes lighting up.

NEW YORK (AP)—Looking for some easy money?

"Go for a treasure hunt in your own yard," advises Hans M. F. Schulman, one of the world's largest dealers in rare coins.

"Some people have valuable collections of old coins and paper money and don't know it—money left behind by earlier members of their family and kept as souvenirs."

Most of this is worth only its face value, but old coins and bills that are rare and in good condition are sky-rocketing. That is because the number of American numismatists—as coin collectors call themselves—has jumped from 25,000 to about 50,000 in recent years.

"Paper money today is heavily collected because old coins are getting scarcer," said Schulman.

"Old U. S. bills are in particular demand. Those dated from 1862 up to 1879 are worth at least double their face value, even in poor condition, and often much more."

Around 1875 the mint pulled a hoarder and let get into circulation more than 100 bills printed $50 on the front and $100 on the back.

"There are probably a number of these lost or hidden away in attics or other places," said Schulman. "And they are worth today more than $1,000 each."

Confederate money also is enjoying a mild boom, but it still is considerably more anemic than the standard Yankee dollar, even in the South.

"A $50 Confederate government bill that used to bring $1 now may sell up to $4," said Schulman and added:

"But, please—don't sell me any. They printed too many."

Schulman, whose family for three generations have been coin dealers to kings and commoners around the world, came here from Amsterdam in 1939. The Nazis seized and killed his father and mother.

His coin collecting clients include retired cops, college students, Indian maharajahs and King Farouk of Egypt. Next month he is holding a three-day $80,000 auction in the Waldorf-Astoria to dispose of the remainder of financier J. P. Morgan's vast collection.

What is the difference between kings and ordinary coin collectors? "Kings have a keener sense of trading," said Schulman, smiling. "They are much more choosy in their buying. They know values and look for bargains."

He believes that a shrewdly assembled coin collection exceeds demands as an investment, ranks second only to real estate for stability in value.

Hoarding gold is illegal, but collectors are allowed to hold any number of gold coins, so long as they are of different types or mint marks. Asked why black marketeers and tax dodgers didn't try to hide some of the wealth this way, Schulman said grimly:

UNITED GAS HAS BIG YEAR IN '51

Both Income And Expenses Ran Larger Than Ever; Ever Pipelines Built

SHEREVEPORT. La., March 8 (Special)—The 22nd annual report to stockholders of United Gas Corporation showed the year 1951 as one of major increases in revenues and operating expenses, and major investments in new pipe lines and other properties.

Twenty-two additional communities in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi obtained natural gas service from United during the year, to bring the total number served either at wholesale or retail to 461. The distribution divisions of the corporation were serving 430,305 customers in 301 of these communities at year end, an increase during 1951 of 29,651 customers.

Natural gas sales increased 84 billion cubic feet over the previous year to total of 690 billion cubic feet. Revenues from natural gas sales were up $14,589,000 to $89,666,000.

The system's expenditures for construction, development and exploration aggregated $113,310,000. This was far more than in any previous year, and is almost equal to the total expenditures for these purposes in the four preceding years. Principal item in the capital expenditures was $9 million dollars invested in pipeline properties. Others were approximately 13 million dollars in production properties, six million in distribution properties and five million in shipper and potash properties.

C. C. McGowen, president of the United Gas companies, pointed out that the expanded facilities were in only limited operation in 1951 and therefore did not contribute to the earnings for the year. He stated in a letter to the stockholders that the current expansion program should be completed by the middle of 1952.

The consolidated net income of the system amounted to $163 per share on the average number of shares outstanding during the year, as compared with $147 per share for the year 1950. Dividends were paid at a rate of twenty quarters per share on the stock outstanding at the various record dates. This is the same quarterly rate per share as that paid since mid-1947.

In addition to its sales of natural gas, the system sold approximately 170 million gallons of natural gasoline and other liquid products extracted from natural gas. This was an increase of six million gallons over 1950.

Union Producing Company production subsidiary of United Gas Corporation sold 6,211,640 barrels of crude oil during the year, an increase of 745,931 barrels over 1950.

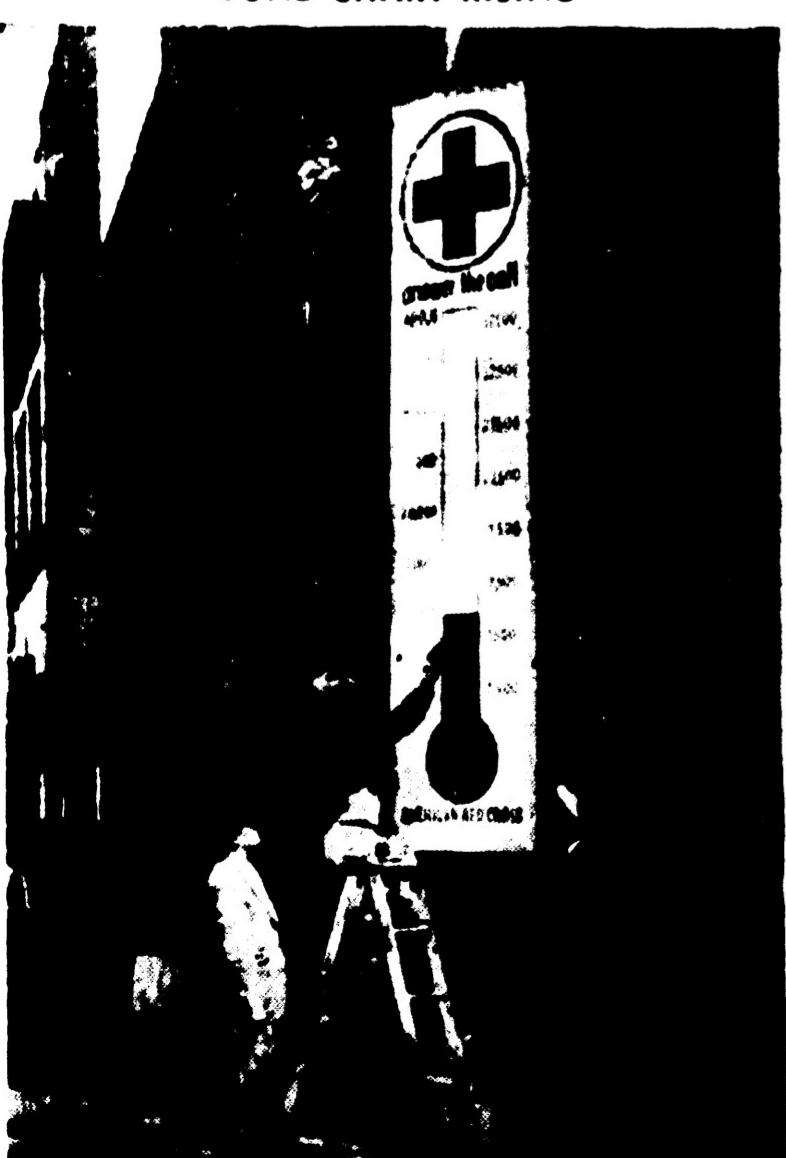

Costs of doing business continued to climb during 1951, the report showed. Total operating and maintenance expenses increased $14,645,000 over the previous year. Of this amount, the cost of gas purchased represented more than eight million dollars, more than half of which was the result of an increase in the average unit cost of gas purchased.

Producers and owners of land or royalties in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi were paid more than $39,000,000 for gas. United purchased or for royalties on gas or gasoline. This was about nine million dollars more than in 1950.

Aboriginal residents of Easter Island called it "Rapa Nui"—"The Big Paddle," presumably in memory of the long canoe trip which brought the first people to the island.

When New England farmers cleared their land, they often piled loose stones found in the fields at the edges of the fields as fences. Thousands of miles of these stone fences are still in place.

STRANGE GROUP PLANS ON B'DAY

A. A. Meet Today In Central Grammar School

This strange society, fraternity organization or whatever you may call it is unique. Its adverse planning, struggles and success is unmistakably American.

Alcoholics Anonymous has but one purpose and that is "To Help the Sick Alcoholic Recover, if he wishes." Alcoholics Anonymous has no fees or dues. It has almost no money and wishes it could do with still less. It has no pledges or quotas to be broken, it has no constraints and does not say "You Must" do this or You Must Not" do that. It has very little formal organization and wants less.

This unique organization had its humble beginning in Akron, Ohio in 1935. During the past seventeen years it has grown to a membership of around 125,000 happy and sober men and women in some four thousand groups all over the world. The membership of Alcoholics Anonymous is made up of men and women in all walks of life.

On the eastern front, a patrol of Republic of Korea ROK Marines was hit by 20 rounds of mortar fire and withdrew under cover of Allied artillery.

By coincidence, the award was made on the former state commander's birthday who if he had lived would have been 35 years old.

Commander Cash was very active in V. F. W. work and highly regarded by all veterans in this area.

Harold Martin, commander of the Rodney J. Hobbs post here, in presenting the award Thursday night said: "We hope this demonstrates in some small way the respect and regard all veterans have for the work that Clarence Cash did."

The presentation was given to Mrs. Cash in the form of a framed diploma, authorizing her to all rights and privileges given to widows and orphans of veterans killed in war. The rights were purchased for Mrs. Cash by the local V. F. W. post.

CLARENCE CASH'S MOTHER HONORED

War Halted By Snow, Overcast

By William E. Gross, D. D.

Paul the Apostle had many intimate friends and associates in the fellowship of the Christian life, and in the churches that he established. This is made plain in many passages and references in the book of Acts, and in the Pauline Epistles.

But the closest and most intimate of all these relationships was that with the young man, Timothy, whom he called his son, and to whom he addressed two notable Epistles.

Timothy, of course, was not Paul's son in a family sense. So far as we know Paul was unmarried. (See I Corinthians 9:5), but it is a matter of conjecture whether he was a bachelor or a widower. What seems certain is that he had no child of his own.

But a flesh-and-blood relationship could hardly have made Timothy Paul's son more in sentiment and effect than he actually was. So far as one can see the deep attachment on Paul's part of a lone man for one upon whom he could bestow his affection, was reciprocated by Timothy, a response that is not always so common from youth to old or middle age.

Apparently Timothy never failed him, as Paul believed young John Mark had failed in the incident leading to the sharp contention between Paul and Barnabas. (Acts 15:39).

It is to be noted, however, not only that John Mark made good, as the Mark who wrote our second Gospel, but also that he became restored to Paul's good will and favor as a fellow-worker and a comfort to him. (Colossians 4:11).

But Timothy was the young friend who stood closest to Paul, added to his "son." Timothy, Paul wrote two Epistles, full of good counsel for youth, from which men of today might well profit.

The Tigrettes have grown in numbers and activities; it has become more and more apparent that the program appeals to the girls. The Tigrettes are now making plans to stage their first minstrel show. Each of the one hundred seventy girls will be featured in this gala performance. Accompanied by a Dixieland band, the girls will stage an odd time black face show with all of its color and merriment. Reminiscent are undeviating, and the show will be completed apart from their regular activities. The Tigrettes are promising a show that will feature end men, chorus girls, song and dance routines, blended with many accomplished soloists all rendered in true minstrel fashion.

In accordance with their policy of building the Tigrette program to even greater heights, these girls have "fallen right in line" to stage the minstrel. With the talent from this ranks of the organization, it promises to be one of the highlights of the spring season.

There are sixty-one new girls that will make their debut in this Tigrette project.

At the Neville Auditorium on Friday, May 9, all eyes will follow this talented group of one hundred seventy girls as they swing the attention from their precision drill to their two hour show, "The South Shall Rise Again," packed with mirth and music.

Installation of officers will take place later that evening.

Pope Asks More Goods For Needy

VATICAN CITY, March 8 (UPI)—Pope Pius XII urged today that more of the world's goods be given to the needy.

There is an "intolerable contrast between immoderate luxury and poverty that is sometimes shameful and always heartbreaking," he said in his annual Lenten speech to Rome's priests and preachers in the Vatican's Consistorial Hall.

"What has been done to lessen this contrast?" the Pope asked. He recalled he had urged men of Italian Catholic Action to form a "granite front" against movements corrupting economic and social life.

"Doubtless success cannot be won in a day," he said. "It is necessary to go to work immediately and push ahead with all effort."

The Pope referred to his speech of Feb. 10 asking Romans to lead a crusade for a world-wide Christian renewal.

The church, he said, most urgently needs people in all walks of life whose actions conform fully with the commandments of God.

The Pope told his listeners about 300 pastors and preachers that insofar as the City of Rome is concerned there is great need for more parishes, churches and priests.

The growth of the Capital. Since 1939, Rome's population has doubled—from 800,000 to 1,650,000.

Some of the city's parishes have as many as 40,000 church members and in some instances, only five or six priests to take care of their spiritual needs, the Pope said.

The background is the unresolved but temporarily shelved issue of building and repairing airfields during an armistice. The Allies insist that no military airfield construction be tolerated.

Libby pulled no punches in volving the U. N. Command charge that the Reds were holding All prisoners in Manchuria.

"We have convincing evidence that you are holding prisoners in detention camps outside Korea without having reported them to our side," he told Lee Sang Cho.

"This evidence has reached us from too many sources to be ignored or lightly dismissed."

He added that captured Communist soldiers had told of escorting Allied prisoners to a processing center in Harbin in Central Manchuria.

Libby said this contradicted the repeated Communist claim that all Allied prisoners are held in North Korea. Red China disclaims being a belligerent in the Korean War and insists her troops in the conflict are "volunteers."

What the President approves will provide the instructions for the mission to be assigned.

Officials said the group will be headed by a military man but will include State Department representatives and other civilian officials.

Negotiation of a two-way military alliance with Franco was described as out of the question; what is planned rather is a practical working agreement between Spain and the United States covering their extension of aid to each other.

Ever since the late Admiral Forrest Sherman conferred with Franco in Spain last summer, there have been reports that the United States wanted Naval bases at Cadiz, Cartagena, Ferrol and Santa Cruz—(Canary Islands) and air bases at Barcelona, Madrid and Seville; and probably also at Valencia and Lugo, near Ferrol.

Johansen noted that the Truman administration has announced a decision to postpone from 1954 to 1955 the target date for reaching present airpower goals. Commenting that his group had already criticized the rate of the airpower change, he added in a statement:

"Within the next few months, Congress will be faced with a responsibility of passing upon these objectives. We must determine whether the state of the national economy will permit us to cut down further on plans to expand

W. Decker Moore, a former city attorney of West Monroe, was inadvertently omitted in listing the five attorneys residing in that city at this time. He was one of the first to become well established in his city, and is widely and favorably known in the Twin Cities.

Chairman N. Bryant James of the pro-Taft GOP State Central Committee announced in farmland today that the Committee will meet here Friday.

James said he did not know what the Committee would decide to do.

During a recent court scrap between the rival factions, in a dispute over committee seats, James hinted the pro-Taft Committee might decide to name Louisiana's 15 GOP delegates itself.

Republicans, few in number in this Democratic state, have had state conventions for years.

The 50-member Committee, which rules the party, has been called into session to carry out court orders directing it to approve election returns in which Eisenhower backers won a victory.

The Committee, dominated by friends of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, including National Committeeman John E. Jackson of New Orleans, threw out a Jan. 15 primary as illegal.

But Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's boosters, who won 10 of 12 contested committee seats in the primary, upset the move with a court ruling in their favor. The Taft forces lost an appeal.

If the Eisenhower group is seated, Taft supporters still would retain a majority.

James said today the question of whether the party committee wants to call a state convention will be brought up for a decision.

John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans, Southern leader for Eisenhower supporters, has predicted a fight if the state convention plan is abandoned. He insists "we want a convention."

The Wisdom faction hopes to gain greater influence in naming delegates if a convention is held.

Wisdom is one of the 10 Eisenhower supporters expected to be seated on the GOP committee when it meets here.

James, a Taft advocate, said the GOP Committee, which had ruled the election illegal, would meet at noon to certify the returns as ordered by District Court here.

Then the new Committee will meet at 2:30 p.m. (CST) to organize, he added. If there is no fight over the action, the Eisenhower group is expected to take its seats on the new committee.

The GOP committee, when it met here Jan. 30, had branded the primary election illegal after contending there were not enough

No motive for the shooting had been uncovered, Morgan said, but added that William Jr. said, "Daddy killed Mama and Sister and shot me and Grandmother." No further statement was obtained from the boy, he said.

Recently Congressman Passman accompanied the flood control appropriation committee on a tour of all the major flood control projects in Louisiana. He stated that the committee members were tremendously impressed with the work that had been accomplished and he felt that in the future the committee would be more considerate because this was the first time that a majority of the flood control appropriation committee had checked flood control work first hand in Louisiana.

If courts continue to follow the theory in that opinion, Ellender said, "we are doomed."

"What is legally your own today could legally become government property tomorrow—if the government just indicated that it wanted your holdings. Nothing would be excepted; the iron ore of Minnesota, the forests of the state of Washington, the cotton fields of Louisiana—even your home could all become government property under this legal precedent."

The tidelands, he said, "must be returned to the states."

It wasn't that way before we slowed down in accordance with the wishes of the people back home who did not want heavy casualties when there was a chance for peace, he said.

The future operations of the Eighth Army are still on the conference table at Panmunjom.

Van Fleet said the Chinese and North Koreans have twice as many artillery pieces as the United Nations strung along the 155-mile battle front and in reserve.

"They are throwing a lot more artillery shells than they ever have. There are points on the front where they think nothing of throwing in concentrations of 1,000 rounds and more. In other words, they are being pretty liberal with their shells so they must have plenty of them."

Van Fleet said Allied artillery is better, however, "and that is where we feel we have the advantage."

He reported the enemy is using Chinese, American and Japanese field pieces and has some new Chinese and Russian guns.

A disconcerting fact for the Allies has been that the Chinese and North Korean units are now at near full strength.

"It wasn't that way before we were inflicting heavy casualties on the Reds that cut deeply into their combat strength," Van Fleet observed, recalling the crushing blows his Army delivered the Communists last year.

Communist tank strength along the front and in reserve totals about three brigades—roughly 500 tanks, Van Fleet said.

But the Reds said so few enemy prisoners are being taken along the frontlines now that it is difficult to evaluate the caliber of the soldiers facing United Nations lines. They are, however, well equipped and well armed.

The Eighth Army is "just as well off as it was during the last Communist drives," Van Fleet said.

Concern has been expressed in some quarters that rotation of troops and replacement of combat-hardened divisions with new units has weakened the fighting quality of Allied troops.

Van Fleet said morale still is high among his doughboys. He said intensive training has been going on in each unit while present static conditions exist along the front. One of the key phases of this drill is preparation against air attack in case the Reds should launch an air-supported offensive.

The general had special praise for the 40th and 45th divisions, which recently replaced the veteran U. S. 24th Infantry and the 1st Cavalry Divisions in Korea.

"I believe the two National Guard Divisions have brought a wealth of trained people, battle-wise officers who fought together in World War II and a great desire to get into the fight with the enemy," he said.

"The fighting ability of our troops has been our greatest asset up to now. It will continue to be until they—the Communists—are broken. Our soldiers are ready."

The annual Easter Egg hunt and dance will also be discussed at the meeting.

PINAY SUCCEEDS, Local Thefts FORM CABINET Reported To City Police

PARIS, March 8 (AP)—Conservative Premier Antoine Pinay succeeded today in forming a cabinet that reaffirms the place of France in the Western world's defense. Now his big problem is to get the fractious National Assembly to approve his selections.

Sixteen of the 17 men in the major jobs are veteran ministers, mostly of the middle-road type. The one newcomer is a 46-year-old independent, Pierre Garet, assigned the labor portfolio.

If the National Assembly endorses the selections, in a vote due Friday, the cabinet will become France's 20th government since France was liberated from the Germans in 1944.

If it doesn't, France will drift further toward the inflation and insolvency that has threatened her role as the major continental power of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Robert Schuman remained at the helm in the French foreign ministry after a hard, all-night struggle. His friends insisted he be retained as a pledge France would continue support of NATO, armed resistance to Communism in Korea and Indo-China, and a unified European army, including West Germans. Other politicians insisted that he be replaced. At one point it looked as if the premier could not get the two sides together and would have to quit.

Pinay, a well-to-do leather manufacturer when he is not politicking, took over the portfolios of finance, the budget and economic affairs, as well as the prime ministry. This gave the cabinet a right-wing tinge. The other big change was the replacement by Ex-Premier Rene Pleven of Defense Minister Georges Bidault, who fell ill at the NATO conference in Lisbon.

Pleven is the author of the Pleven plan for a unified European army including West Germans.

In the Assembly vote Tuesday, the new team will need every middle and right-wing vote it can get. Pinay was confirmed last week only because De Gaulle defected the leadership of Gen. Charles De Gaulle and voted against the party line he laid down.

None of them went into Pleven's cabinet, so there is no guarantee that they will repeat.

SUMMER CAMPS GOOD TRAINING Boys And Girls Learn Many Character Building Lines

Sunday, March 9, 1952

Monroe Morning World A-7

Camp Nagawicka for girls and Camp St. John for boys on beautiful Lake Nagawicka situated in the Wisconsin woods meet the qualifications prescribed by the discerning parent.

Mr. George W. Trousdale, representative for these two camps in the Monroe area, accompanies an enthusiastic group of girls and boys each June to this enjoyable land of Summer Vacations.

When parents send a daughter to the right camp they are offering her a treasure of which nothing can ever deprive her: riches though intangible, which will last a lifetime. The right camp gives the assurance that the daughter's health will be safeguarded, and her happiness fostered by means of a wholesome blend of work and play. It must create an environment in which she will develop a capacity for cooperation and sense of comradeship, where she will learn to make decisions for herself, how to follow as well as to lead, how to do different things and how to find happiness in doing them well.

There she will find it worth her while to form habits of neatness, promptness and industry. She will learn that her freedom of action is restricted only in so far as it affects the welfare of others, and that every privilege in life carries with it an accompanying responsibility.

BANANA PLANTATIONS MOVE

In Central America banana plantations have gradually moved from the Caribbean side of the countries to the Pacific side because of the advance of soil diseases.

The banana plant originated in Southern Asia but more than two-thirds of the commercial banana crop is now produced in Central America.

You're off in a swirl of Power!

We're willing to wager that not one person in a hundred knows what really goes on inside an automobile engine—so let's take this by easy stages.

The instant you nudge Buick's Fireball 8 Engine into action—a whole string of things starts to happen.

Eight sparks begin to crackle in well-timed sequence. Eight pistons start gliding up and down with rhythmic precision. Eight pairs of valves dance open and closed—to let fuel charges in, exhaust gases out of cylinder after cylinder.

All right, you say, what's so complex about that? Can't anyone build an engine that does this to perfection?

Well, we'd better add, these things happen at the rate of more than 10,000 times per mile—and that's 100 times per second at 35 miles an hour!

So—it's important to know that Buick uses a deep-breathing valve-in-head design that shoots a fuel charge in—cleans exhaust gases out—in a hurry.

It's important to know that all the power released by the fuel concentrates its driving force right on the head of each Buick piston. (Everyone who has recently built "new" high-compression engines copied this "Buick first.")

But most important of all—Buick adds one more twist which others still haven't copied.

Every charge of fuel rushing into a Buick engine becomes a twisting, swirling, high-compressed ball that flashes with sudden, consuming completeness the instant the spark sets it afire.

And to add this all up: clean, complete combustion—10,000 times per mile—is the secret of getting more power—more miles—from each gallon of gasoline.

So we're not simply using picture words when we tell you that Buick—and only Buick—has a FIREBALL ENGINE—or that you're off in a swirl of power with one of these high-powered performers under the hood.

1952 has brought a lot of sparkling new improvements which you'll want to see and admire when you come to our showrooms.

But the thrill of thrills is still what you and a Buick—and a Fireball 8 Engine—can do out on the road. When do you want to try a sample?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Sure is true for '52

WEBB PIERCE IS SLATED IN CITY

Will Appear In New Arcade On Night Of Friday March 21.

Webb Pierce and the Southern Valley Boys will appear at the New Arcade, 406½ DeSard, Monroe, on Friday, March 21.

Webb is the most popular hillbilly singer in Northern Louisiana. He was born and reared in West Monroe, but has made his home at Shreveport since the war. He is a featured vocalist on the Louisiana Hayride every Saturday night. He plays over KWKH every week day when he is not on tour.

Webb first started recording on small label recordings, such as "New Panhandle Rag" and is now recording for the Decca Record Company. His Decca hits include "Wondering," which he composed. This is the nation's number one requested song played by disc jockeys, according to a recent poll by billboard magazines. This one record has sold over 200,000 copies and for the past three months has out sold all other major artists recording for Decca. The record, "You Know I'm Still in Love with You," is the best up and coming record for Decca. This is Webb's latest composition. Some of his later hits also include "New Silver Bell" and "Gonna See My Baby Tonight."

Webb has just completed tour, where he played to capacity crowds in Lake Charles, Houston, San Antonio, and Dallas.

Faron Young, a young vocalist, is a regular feature with the band. He is also a regular feature on the Louisiana Hayride and KWKH. He has made a couple of Gothic recordings, labeled "Have I Waited Too Long?" and "You Are Just Imagination."

PUBLIC FORUM

Public Forum,

Dear Editor:

In a recent issue of the paper you had an advertisement from "your friend and congressman" Otto E. Passman, in which he said if we would listen to his radio broadcast, we would honor him. I listened to the speech and am still looking for some reason to do him honor.

It is my sincere opinion that if Otto had remained in Washington, where he belonged, instead of running around the state with Uncle Earl during the recent election, he would have been and still be honored much more. How can a man expect to be held in any sort of esteem when he takes the people's money to do a job in the nation's capital and then runs around the state acting as hatchet man for a group that does not even represent the people.

We heard why he had to say and feel sure that he had his Bible in hand while he was talking, but that does not mean that he didn't have something else in his back pocket. He couldn't have changed that quick.

Now the congressman is preparing to go to the Korean and other Far Eastern areas on what he will no doubt call a "trip saving the taxpayers millions of dollars." What assurance do we have he will do his work over there any better than he did during the recent elections? Two years ago he went to the same area and came back complaining that someone over there stole his shoes and hat and what - have - you. Now, I ask you, if a man can't keep his hat and shoes, just how much good can he do with the nation's money and lives of men at stake?

An interested voter and taxpayer.

Strauss & Son Will Sponsor Fruit And Vegetable Displays

F. Strauss & Son Inc. is sponsoring free training classes in fresh fruit and vegetable merchandising, conducted by the United Merchandising Institute of the United Fresh Fruit & Vegetable Association, under contract with the United States Department of Agriculture. Beginning March 17, 1952, Monroe grocers will prepare, and worked for several years in trim, display, price and care for administrative management. He fresh fruits and vegetables in a has conducted U. M. I. classes classroom "store" set up in the throughout the United States.

F. Strauss & Son, Inc. warehouse. Classes will be conducted by Ralph "Pete" Purcell, one of the corps of instructors with the United Merchandising Institute.

The school will run for four weeks and at the latest count 285 merchants from all over the Monroe area were signed up as active participants. The purpose is, stated Thomas L. Flinberg, of F. Strauss & Son, Inc., to improve departments of fruits and fresh vegetables for Monroe consumers.

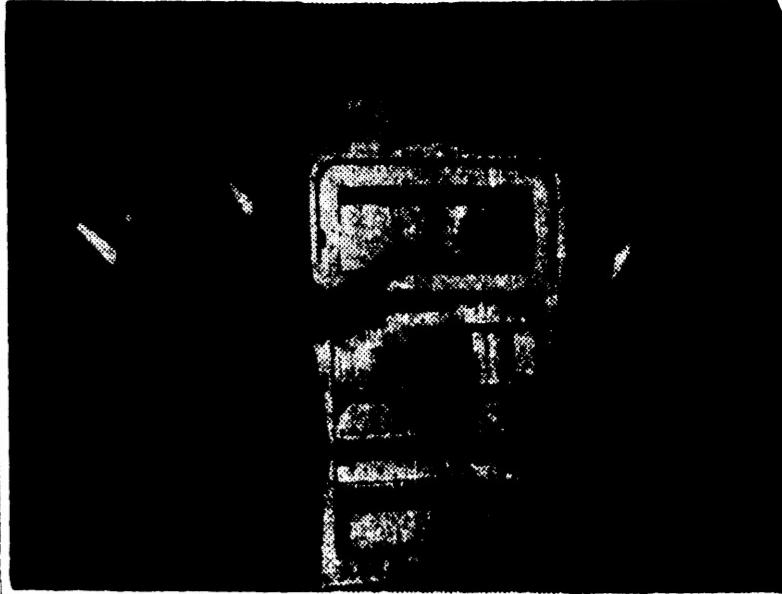

F. Strauss & Son, Inc. said: "We are proud to sponsor this excellent program in this area. Thousands of retailers in more than 125 cities across the nation have received U. M. I. training. Consumers benefit from this training with more and better fresh fruits and vegetables at realistic prices, since U. S. Department of Agriculture surveys indicate 96 per cent of retailers attending U. M. I. classes have increased their fresh fruit and vegetable volume, while 95 per cent have substantially reduced their spoilage losses."

Studies indicate consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables in the United States is well under the 564 pounds needed annually per person for a good diet. Experience of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association and the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates consumer acceptance of these fresh commodities is increased tremendously when the retailer consistently employs modern, efficient methods of merchandising.

Ralph "Pete" Purcell, the U. M. I. instructor, is a native of Kansas City, Missouri, where he now maintains his residence. Before joining the U. M. I. staff, Purcell built up considerable experience in the retail food business.

BURKE GRABS SIX-STROKE LEAD AT ST. PETE

TEXAN HAS STAGE SET FOR HIS 4TH TRIUMPH IN ROW

Middlecoff Wilts, Holds 2nd Place Tie With Bessellink.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 8.—Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston, Tex., the sensation of the winter golf circuit, had a fourth straight tournament conquest almost in the bag tonight.

The consistent Texan, playing a near perfect tune with his irons and putter, sped around the 6,233 yard Lakewood Country Club course today in 65, seven under par. That gave him 54-hole total of 200 and a fat six stroke lead with just 18 holes to go.

Yesterday's leader, Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., wilted under the torrid pace, taking 73 for 206 to fall into a second place tie with Al Bessellink of Chicago.

Thus Burke stood within seemingly easy reach of his fourth consecutive $2,000 first prize.

In the three weeks before coming to Florida, the handsome, 20-year-old Texan had swept the Texas Open, Houston Open and Baton Rouge open to shoot to the top of the $15,000 money winning list with $6,720.

He was in trouble only once today as he wiped out the two stroke margin Middlecoff had gained in yesterday's second round. At the short par 3 seventh, Burke overshot the green and then puffed twice for a 4.

With that single mistake out of his system, Burke settled down. He nailed 20 foot putts for birdies at the eighth and ninth to make the turn in 33, three under par.

A 15-foot putt gave him another birdie at the 10th but his irons were the major factor the rest of the way. His approaches were so deadly he had easy puts for birdies at the 13th, 15th and 16th.

The most consistent player of this tournament, Shelley Mayfield of Cedarhurst, N. Y., fired his third straight 69 for 207 and fourth place.

Tied for fifth with 206 were Art Wall, Homedale, Pa., and Pete Cooper, White Plains, N. Y.

Another stroke back were Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C., Shee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., and Toby Lyons, Jamestown, N. Y.

Champions In Three More Local Cage Loops Due To Be Decided This Week

City, Church, And Girls' Loop In Final Play-offs

Recreation League basketball — which has already named champions in two leagues — will ring down the curtain in at least two more circuits this week and has a chance to close altogether, with final games coming up for the City and Church League and the second game of Girls' League final play-offs scheduled.

Taking to the hardwoods tomorrow night in the City League will be the Red Shield Club and Louisiana Business College, first and third teams in the regular season's standings.

Both the Shields and the L. B. C. teams had to go three games to take a best two - of - three series from Hunt and Whitaker and Three - Way Finance to decide which teams would meet in the finals. Red Shield ended the season on top of the league and best last place Hunt and Whitaker in the semi-finals, but L. B. C. came up from third place to eliminate second - slot Three-Way.

The Church League semi-finals ended Thursday night with the Baptist teams, Monroe and West Monroe, deciding the games in their favor in straight sets. Stone Avenue M. Y. F. and Loch Arbor were the victims.

The regular season games saw the Monroe Baptists end in front, West Monroe in second place, M. Y. F. in the third slot and Loch Arbor, without a win, trailing in fourth place. The finals battle will begin at 7 p. m. tomorrow in fourth place. The finals battle will begin at 7 p. m. tomorrow in fourth place.

Abbeville Seeks To Take Up Berries' Franchise

THIBODEAUX, La. (UPI)—Edward Deramee, president of the Evangeline League, said today the Hammond Class C Berries baseball club is definitely out of the loop.

Deramee said Mayor James A. Stire, president of the Hammond club, said he had a meeting with some of the fans and they reported little or no success in plans to raise funds to keep the franchise.

Earlier in the season Stire expressed doubt Hammond would be able to keep the franchise and was given until last Monday to decide. At that time, Stire met with the fans and the decision was to try to stay in the League.

Deramee said Abbeville had been suggested as a possibility, but dropped its plans when Hammond decided to remain.

Young Brouard, chairman of a committee of Abbeville supporters reported they were ready to take up the franchise and said a meeting will be held tomorrow night to organize soliciting teams to raise $25,000 for the purpose.

Brouard added that the committee will answer the invitation to join Monday, but that it will be three or four days before anything definite is known.

FANCY NEW CROP OF ROOKIES WILL MAKE THEIR BIDS

334 Spring Games Will Help Settle Bid Decisions

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 8.—Who will take Joe DiMaggio's old job? How will Eddie Stanky do as manager? Can Rogers Hornsby awaken the St. Louis Browns? Is Hal Newhouse through? Will the Red Sox be "also rans" under Lou Boudreau?

It will be months before you get all the answers but the first hints dropped today as the major leaguers opened their exhibition schedule.

In the 334 spring games to be played before opening day, April 15, the 16 managers will experiment with a bright new crop of rookies. A few will make the club. Most will wind up in the minors.

When the World Champion New York Yankees squared off with the St. Louis Cards at Al Lang Field, Manager Casey Stengel had a wide open race in center field.

Mickey Mantle, Jackie Jensen and Bob Cerv were wrestling for the job left open by DiMaggio's retirement. Maybe none of them will fit the bill. It could be that Gene Woodling, mentioned by DiMaggio as his most likely successor, will move over from left.

Stengel awaited the exhibitions with great interest to test his farm school grads from the Lake Wales, Fla., camp. He wanted to see how kids like Kal Segrist, Andy Carey and Cerv and pitchers like Tom Gorman, Al Cicotte, Ed Cereghino and Harry Schaeffer would do against big league competition.

Across the field on the other bench, Eddie Stanky was making his debut as a manager. Starting at the top, he had much to learn.

At his debut as a manager, starting at the top, he had much to learn.

Early reports on the Cards' sore-armed pitchers, Cloyd Boyer and Joe Presko, were encouraging. But Stanky had to figure out dependable starters to back up Gerry Staley and Cliff Chambers in the next six weeks.

Stanky must realign his infield to make room for Manager Stanky at second base. Rod Shoenstein may wind up on first base in the shuffle.

When Leo Durocher led his National League Champion New York Giants against Cleveland at Tucson, Ariz., all eyes were on second base. With Stanky gone, Leo was trying Davey Williams. Bob Hofman and Ron Samford at the job. Williams probably will get the call as Al Dark's partner.

Leo had other problems too. Willie Mays, the rookie sensation of 1951, expects an imminent army call. When that happens, Durocher may have to take Bobby Thomson off third base and return him to his old centerfield post.

Cleveland watched with interest the effects of the pre-training bathting school for hitters like Al Roselli.

Greenies Ready For Grid Drills

NEW ORLEANS, March 8 (UPI)—Tulane University's football troops begin their spring practice Monday on a six-day week basis, Coach Henry Franks said today.

Since the best linemen on the last year's squad are gone, the Greenies bossman has to find replacements between tomorrow and the 20th session. A session, the coach added, is any time the squad is on the field.

Compared with the line, the center and backfield are set, especially the offensive wall. The pivot escaped graduation completely. Most of the ball carriers are back.

In all, 29 lettermen are back and will face an eight-game conference schedule plus two non-league foes.

The SEC opposition is Georgia, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Kentucky, Mississippi State, Ole Miss, Vanderbilt and LSU. The non-SEC antagonists are Louisiana College and Santa Clara.

New Orleans Boy Joins Card Chain

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 8 (Special)—The St. Louis Cardinals today announced the signing of a former sensational New Orleans, La., high school athlete to a contract with the Red Birds Allen Park, Pa., farm club of the Class B Inter-State League.

He is 21-year-old Mike Trapani, a 5-foot, 10-inch, 165-pound, hard-hitting outfielder. Trapani, who swings from the left side of the plate, attended Redemptorist High School, New Orleans, from 1946 through 1950 and was a mainstay of the school's baseball, basketball and football teams each year.

He was selected to the New Orleans All - Star baseball team four consecutive years and was voted the most valuable player in the Prep League in 1950. That same year he received his school's award as "the athlete contributing most to sports since the school's inauguration."

Early reports on the Cards' sore-armed pitchers, Cloyd Boyer and Joe Presko, were encouraging. But Stanky had to figure out dependable starters to back up Gerry Staley and Cliff Chambers in the next six weeks.

Stanky must realign his infield to make room for Manager Stanky at second base. Rod Shoenstein may wind up on first base in the shuffle.

1952 Might See Finish For Several Outstanding Major League Careers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 8 (UPI)—Several major league ball players do not need road maps to tell them what this coming season marks the crossroads for them.

An unusually large number of athletes are squarely on the spot for the 1952 season, and if they fail to deliver, the chances are they never will wear big league uniforms again.

Every club has at least one person who regards this as a do-or-die season. Foremost on the list is Hal Newhouse, once peerless pitcher of the American League. The 30-year-old Detroit Tiger left-hander, slowed up by a sore arm in 1951, won only six games. He did not pitch an inning during the last two and a half months of the campaign.

Newhouse, with 191 wins to his credit, has a contract calling for around $37,000. A sincere, proud workman, Hal has publicly stated he would rather quit than stoop to mediocrity. If he finds that he cannot regain his old form, he will undoubtedly stick to his word.

The World Champion New York Yankees have several such performers in Johnny Mize, Johnny Hopp, Johnny Sain, Stubby Overmire and Spec Sheas.

Mize, at 39, is the oldest player in the American League, excepting ageless Satchel Paige. Big Jawn can still hit the old apple, but he has slowed to a walk and needs lots of rest in longer stretches. His activities this season probably will be confined to pinch hitting duties. The same applies to 35-year-old Hopp, also a first baseman.

Sain, 33, got a new lease on life late last season after the Yankees purchased him from the Boston Braves. It remains to be seen whether the long, lean righthander can continue to fool the enemy.

Gene Bearden, back with Bill Veeck, under whom he rose to the heights as a 20 - game winning Cleveland southpaw in 1948, hopes he can make a comeback with the lowly St. Louis Browns.

The handsome Bearden, although only 31, appears finished, after having failed in trials with Washington and Detroit last year.

The swarthy knuckleballer, who pitched the Tribe to the pennant with a playoff victory over the Boston Red Sox, and followed it up with a pair of brilliant jobs in the World Series against the Braves, never was the same pitcher after that remarkable season.

Walker Cooper and Bob Elliott, slugging standbys of the National League for many years, appear to be nearing trall's end. Cooper, at 37, still figures to be the Braves No. 1 catcher this season but the 35-year-old Elliott may find his third base post usurped by one of the many good - looking Boston rookies.

League Directors Meet
This Week To Settle
Plans

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 8.—Directors of the Cotton States Baseball League will meet in Greenville this week to adopt a 126-game schedule opening April 22 and closing Aug. 26.

Al Haraway of Helena, Ark., president of the Cotton States and J. P. Friend of Blytheville, Ark., will meet in Memphis Sunday to review a chart of playing dates.

Haraway said at Helena today he would mail out mimeographed proposed schedules and was undecided on the date of the meeting in Greenville, although it will be held during the coming week.

Five clubs in the Cotton States have selected managers for the coming season. Harry Chozen is the skipper of the Greenville Bucks, returning to the city where he was a successful pilot in 1947. Jimmie Morgan, will be skipper of El Dorado. He played shortstop for the oilers last season. Bob Benish, lefthanded pitcher, will be at the helm of Hot Springs.

New manager of the Greenwood Dodgers will be Stan Waisak and Hillis Layne will be the Pine Bluff Judges pilot.

Natchez, Monroe and Meridian have not announced managers for the new campaign.

Most of the clubs will begin training either in March or early April. The major league farm clubs will get the jump on training. The Greenwood Dodgers, a Brooklyn farm, will begin spring work at Vero Beach, Fla., March 19. The Pine Bluff Judges, a St. Louis Browns farm team, will train at Thomasville, Ga., beginning March 24.

Other clubs will train on their home fields, including Greenville, whose bucks open training for pitchers and catchers at Sportsman's Park March 27 with the balance of the players to report on April 1.

El Dorado starts training April 1 as do Meridian and Monroe. Hot Springs will begin spring work March 31 and Natchez April 3.

Haraway said he had not completed a slate of umpires for the new season. He said it was not likely John Valzand will be back for the new season and umpire Johnson may not return.

Championship Finals,
5 And 3

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 8.—Mary Lena Faulk, 23-year-old Thomasville, Ga., golfer, won the Florida East Coast Women's Golf Tournament for the second straight year here today.

The cool playing Georgian defeated Bea McWane, Birmingham, Ala., 5 and 3 in the 18-hole finals over the Ponce De Leon course. Miss Faulk was three strokes over men's par for the 15 holes necessary to retain the crown.

Miss McWane sank a sizable putt at the start to win the first hole with a par four. It was the only hole the Birmingham miss was able to capture during the match.

The defending champion evened the match on the next green and took the third with a par four when her opponent was erratic around the greens. Miss Faulk finished the nine in 39 strokes, two over men's par, to hold a three-up advantage.

After halving the first three holes in par figures on the home stretch, Miss Faulk won the 13th hole where her opponent trapped her tee shot. The match ended on the fifteenth when Miss McWane trapped her second shot and took two strokes to recover from the hazard.

Miss Faulk won the crown by defeating the top players in tournament. First she eliminated the medalist, Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., 3 and 2, and defeated Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., 4 and 2 in the semi-finals.

HAYAMAKA FACES CURTIS; BASHARA TO MEET SERIOS

Tuesday Show Promises Thrillers For Wrestling Fans

A double main event show is scheduled to take place at Gus Kallio's Walnut street wrestling arena Tuesday night as Jack Curtis squares off against Sugi Hayamaka and Eddie Bashara seeks revenge on the "Gulf" Serios.

The Sugi - Bashara bout looks like the killer of the night since, according to Kallio yesterday, Bashara is still raging over a foul blow delivered by Serios in the semi-final to last week's tag team match.

The match is scheduled as a no time limit — two falls to win, giving the tusslers a chance to wrestle all night long if necessary to decide a winner.

Bashara challenged for the match, said Kallio, after an argument in the dressing room following last Tuesday's bout. Serios had evidently come into Bashara's dressing room with an apology for the blow and was repulsed with the statement, "You'd do the same thing again if you got the chance."

Serios replied, "I don't have to apologize to you anyway," in tone suggesting that he didn't care whether Bashara took his apology or not. After Serios had left the room Bashara told Kallio, "I want another match with that bird," and stipulated that it must have no time limit.

Kallio agreed to ask Serios about it, and Serios took the match the same night. According to Kallio, Bashara may be looking for his revenge any way he can get it.

Both Bashara, a 245-pounder from Norman, Okla., and Serios, who hails from Buffalo, N. Y., are gifted in the use of nefarious tricks, although the gigantic Bashara has not used too many of them in his last few matches here.

The other half of the twin bill also promises to be a good bout. Curtis and Hayamaka — the first a huge, powerful wrestler from Vicksburg, Miss., and the other a short, husky little Japanese from Honolulu, Hawaii — have wrestled each other here once before. The match went a full 90 minutes, with neither of the matmen able to gain the advantage in the final tangle.

The reputation of Curtis is as well known to Monroe fans as if he had lived here all his life, and the little yellow-skinned man has made a powerful showing in his matches here.

Curtis has wrestled and beaten, either in tag matches or by himself, every wrestler on this circuit at one time or another. The names of the people he has overcome here, if placed end to end, would probably encircle the city limits of Monroe without much stretching. They include: "Wild" Bill Steidum, Rex Hobley, "Buff" Serios, Jack "Sockey" McDonald, Bob Estes, "mighty" Scott, Eddie Bachara, "Sailor" Parker, a large gathering of masked villains, and a host of other wrestlers.

His opponent, while he hasn't been wrestling in this area quite long enough to build a reputation like that of Curtis, has left some of the best names on the circuit unconscious on the mat. Hayamaka's specialty is the "Japanese sleep hold," which puts his opponents away just like they were going to sleep.

The match between Curtis and Hayamaka will have an hour time limit with two falls to win. The doors will open at Kallio's arena at 7 p.m. an the curtain will go up on the first act at 8 p.m. Which bout will open Tuesday's show will not be decided until the night of the match, Kallio said.

Wolfpack Takes Southern Crown

RALEIGH, N. C., March 8.—North Carolina State came from behind in the third quarter tonight to roll over Duke, 77-68, and win the Southern Conference basketball tournament for the sixth straight year. A sellout crowd of 12,400 watched the Wolfpack clinch a bid to the eastern N. C. A. A. tournament to be held here in two weeks.

The highest scoring final game in tournament history saw State set a record of 236 points for three games. Duke's 209 points also broke the old standard of 204 set by State a year ago.

Dick Groat, Duke's All-American guard, led tonight's scorers with 27 points before fouling out four minutes from the finish.

Grammar Cagers Clash For Titles

The defending champion Logtown girls, undefeated this year, meet the Calhoun junior sextet in the curtain-raiser at 7 o'clock. The boys of Calhoun and Crosley go into action at 8 o'clock.

New Orleans Comes To End

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—Oil Capitol staged a stretch drive to win the $25,000 New Orleans Handicap at the Fair Grounds today, beating the favored Greek Ship by a neck.

Light Broom was third in the mile and one-sixteenth feature, which closed the 81-day season.

Oil Capitol, owned by Hay's House farm, was timed in 1:44 over a fast track, one-fifth off the track record held jointly by Marriage and Valdina Orphan. He paid $12.40, $5.20 and $3.20. Greek Ship paid $3.60 and $2.80 while C. T. Tanner's Light Broom returned $2.80.

The betting on the day's program amounted to $549,351, an all-time record for the Fair Grounds. The attendance was 15,250.

Bugledrums rushed into a long early lead with Light Broom second and Greek Ship third. They held those positions until the three-eighths post when Jockey Al Poer sent Light Broom after Bugledrums and took the lead.

Light Broom swept into a good lead as they went into the stretch but Greek Ship quickly picked him up and took command with what appeared to be a safe lead. Then Jockey Ken Church piloted Oil Capitol out of the dust, continued with a good rush and sped by Greek Ship. Light Broom was three lengths behind Greek Ship at the finish.

Oil Capitol was flown here yesterday from Miami for the race. Church also came here mainly for the handicap, his second victory in the closing feature. Church won last year on C. B. Whitney's Mount Marcy.

en, Ray Boone, Harry Simpson and Jim Hegan. Arousing the Tribe hitters to back up the four-star pitching staff of Bobby Feller, Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia is Manager Al Lopez' chief problem.

The Boston Braves - Brooklyn pairing at Miami brought Managers Tommy Holmes and Chuck Dresser face to face with their '52 headaches. Holmes hoped to uncover a steady second base-shortstop combination from among the host of Milwaukee and Atlanta grads in camp. He also has high hopes for new pitchers like Ernie Johnson, Gene Conley and Murry Wall.

Dresser's search for a "new Don Newcombe" was his big job. His club was not, except for pitching, although the recurrence of Catcher Roy Campanella's thigh soreness caused some concern. Pitchers to watch in the spring games as possible successors to Newcombe were Clem Labine, Joe Black, John Rutherford, Bob Alexander and Ben Wade.

The Phillies living under the new "austerity" rule with no wives in training camp, opened their exhibition schedule at Clearwater, Fla., with Detroit. Manager Eddie Sawyer of the Phils had a left field and second base problem. He was hoping Connie Ryan would fill the bill at second and was giving Tommy Brown a shot at left. The entire Phil club awaits the return of Curt Simmons.

Red Rolfe, was faced with the job of adding batting punch. Vic Wertz has to get a trial at first base to squeeze more power into the lineup. Newhouse's condition was indefinite, pending a series of trials. The ace left-hander had thrown hard in workouts but a real game would give him a better line on the future. If Newhouse can't make it, he'll pack up and go home.

The Cincinnati at Boston Red Sox pairing in Sarasota, Fla., also packed interest. Manager Lou Boudreau of the Red Sox, taking on a new job, was enthusiastic about a flock of young farm hands who were to play the early exhibitions. With Ted Williams in camp but liable to go into service soon, Boudreau also had to think about a new left fielder. Johnny Pesky seemed to be ticketed as Bobby Doerr's successor at second base.

Luke Sewell's Reds had problems in hitting. If Luke can snap Ted Kluszewski out of his season-long slump, the Reds might better their sixth place finish. Another point of interest was the effort of Sewell to switch Grady Hatton from third base to second.

Hornby's Browns, refuted from stumps to stumps with many rookies of promise, bumped into Pittsburgh's kid-laden club at Burbank, Calif. Hornby's raves about outfielders Jim Rivera, George Schmees and Bob Nieman were to get their first test. The Pirates can be expected to field a team of rookies from their Deland, Fla., school of last fall in the early games.

Both the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland Indians divided their squads for the first game. The Indians' second squad met the Cubs at their new training base in Mesa, Ariz., and the Cub second squad was taking on the Chicago White Sox at Pasadena, Calif.

The Cubs have a job to live up to Wid Matthews' boast that "we won't finish last." They are in the exhibitions.

RECORDS TUMBLE IN BORDER GAMES

Aggies' Hooper, Montes Of Texas Western Standouts

LAREDO, Tex., March 8.—Big Dartow Hooper of Texas A & M and slender Javier Montes of Texas Western furnished the major punches in the Border Olympics today as the big track and field carnival pushed into its final session.

Hooper wiped out his own record in the shot put of the university class with a heave of 53 feet 8 1/2 inches and Montes sped the mile in 4:17.8 to not only beat the record in the college class but set an overall record.

Hooper beat his mark of 51 feet 10 1/2 inches he hung up last year. Montes bettered the college division record of 4:22.6 set by Blaine Rideout of North Texas State in 1938 and the university division mark of 4:18.7 set by J. D. Hampton of Texas A & M in 1949.

Seven records were set and tied two during the day as the high school and junior college divisions ran off their finals and there were a smattering of finals in the university and college classes.

Amarillo won the high school division championship with 25 14-45 points, beating out defending champion Odessa, which had 24 14-45. Galena Park was third with 21.

Victoria easily swept up the junior college title, scoring 77-4 points. Edinburg was second with 20 and Schreiner third with 12.

Records set included these College class - shot put, James Brower, North Texas State, feet 4 inches set record, 46 feet 6 inches; javelin throw, Paul Faulkner, Abilene Christian, 150 feet 8 inches, old record 189 feet 6 inches, set by Faulkner in 1951.

High school class -- 180-yard low hurdles, Dick Gravett, Ray Corpus Christi and Rubin Gonzalez, McAllen, 29.0 new events, 880-yard run - David Joe Weaver, Harlingen, 2:01.1 old record 2:02.6 set by David Cortez, Austin, in 1948. Junior college class -- 450-yard dash, Ronnie Koss, Victoria, 51.1 old record 52.2 set by Alford Parker, Laredo in 1950.

There was a tie for a record in the university class broad jump. Bobby Ragsdale of Texas A & M leaped 23 feet 6 1/2 inches to equal the record set in 1949 by John Robertson of Texas.

President On Fla. Vacation

KEY WEST, Fla., March 8 (AP)—President Truman today displayed more outward interest in the Florida weather, which was changeable, than in the New Hampshire political weather, due to be tested on Tuesday.

On this first full day of his Florida vacation, the President swam in the warm Atlantic for 15 minutes and then lolled in the sand on the enlisted men's beach for an hour and 45 minutes before rain drove him back to the "Little White House."

Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, had no comment on Tuesday's presidential primary in New Hampshire, where Truman and Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee are contesting for national convention delegates. Kefauver has campaigned extensively in the state.

If any of the President's associates are concerned about the outcome, there was no reflection of it in Short's news conference. Most observers on the scene have credited Truman with a big New Hampshire edge.

Short was asked: "Does the President plan to make any overt move in the New Hampshire primary, either by a message to his supporters or astatement?"

He replied: "I know of no such plan."

The President's showing in New Hampshire is regarded as certain to weigh heavily in his decision whether to seek re-election, a decision he may announce upon his return to Washington to address the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinner March 29.

Short defended the President's action of yesterday in instructing all government departments to refuse to comply with a request of a House judiciary subcommittee. The committee had asked a long list of cases which have been referred to the Justice Department for years and which have not yet been wound up.

The President objected that the subcommittee's request was so sweeping as to be a "drag net." He promised to cooperate in any reasonable new request.

Recreation Officials Are Elected

Officers of the Monroe Recreation department were elected recently at their annual board meeting. W. C. Royce was selected chairman; Fred Hancock, vice-chairman; Miss Genevieve Castles, secretary, and George Moses, treasurer.

The outgoing chairman, A. T. White, gave a review of the year's activities.

Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Miss Julia Wossman and A. B. Clarkson who were members of the first recreation board in 1929 and 1930 gave reports on the activities that were necessary then and how they raised money with which to operate.

It was brought out that the city gave them $1,500 a year. When the depression came the city was forced to withdraw the money. They then appealed to the Lions Club for funds, and the Lions contributed.

George Moses stated the Lions Club has bought about $2,000 of playground equipment for both the white and colored school grounds. This year they have pledged $1,000 to the building fund of the Monroe Little League.

Major John Conant, Commissioner Frank Cline and Commissioner Johnnie Simmons also spoke briefly and pledged support to the recreation movement. Guest was Mrs. Bruce Solley, bookkeeper for the department.

The U. S. Weather Bureau now rates British Columbia predicting the trend of the weather over wide areas for a month in advance — often with some accuracy.

In Vernon camel drivers planning long jaunts often force food down the throats of the camels, saying their animals will not eat enough without the forced feeding.

OUTGOING PILOT CLUB PRESIDENT

Retiring as president of the Monroe Pilot Club during one of its most successful years is Mrs. Hazel Garlington, who has also served as director, first vice-president and secretary. As president Mrs. Garlington was instrumental in obtaining such speakers as Pauline Fredericks, noted ABC news analyst, and New Orleans novelist Harriet Kane, who reviewed his latest book "Gentlemen, Swords and Pistols." Shown with Mrs. Garlington above are her three children, left to right, Jerry, Judy and Marshall.

TAX COLLECTIONS SLIGHTLY LOWER

Markets New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Based on current collections, the annual revenue from the new gambling tax will be slightly over nine million dollars instead of the 400 million congressmen hoped for when they passed the law last year.

The revenue bureau reports that only $1,455,392 has been collected from 16,029 registered gamblers since the law went into effect last Nov. 1.

For the first full month of operation — December — gamblers reported they took $7,501,828, and paid the required 10 per cent tax which amounted to about $759,200.

This brought to $970,961 the total tax collection on gambling operations since Nov. 1. In addition, 2,725 gamblers registered for the first time in January and paid their $50 occupational stamp tax boosting the number of admitted gamblers to 16,029.

Government officials say revenue is running far below original optimistic estimates because (1) they haven't enough enforcement agents, and (2) Many gamblers are quitting the racket rather than disclose their names and addresses as required by the law.

The new legislation slaps a 10 per cent tax on all money handled — Not just gambling profits—plus a tax stamp of $50 a year on all backgammon and lottery operators, and punchboards, illegal in most states.

It forces gamblers to give their names and places of business, but gives them no immunity when they do.

The latest report shows that gamblers have registered in all but three of the 64 revenue collection districts. These three are Laramie, Wyoming, Iowa and Vermont.

Thirty-seven of those who registered have reported no business and paid no excise tax as yet.

Louisiana gamblers apparently are doing the nation's boom business in betting — they paid $167,437 in tax on their gambling trade for part of November and all of December, indicating they handled $1,679,700.

Illinois is second with $140,410 in taxes. Ohio third with $136,247 covering operations through December.

However, in number of registered gamblers Virginia state leads the list with 3,633, almost a fifth of the country's total. The usual punchboards are least there, the gamblers face no threat from the law on that score.

By comparison only two gamblers have registered in New Mexico and Wisconsin, four in Nebraska, seven in Maine, six in New Hampshire, nine in Rhode Island, seven in South Dakota.

MORRIS DENIES MUNDT CHARGES

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—

Government cleanup boss Newbold Morris, denying he was active "in Communist fronts," told Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) in a letter made public today:

"I am really not a subversive individual and I am really very careful about my associations."

Mundt promptly fired back a letter declaring:

"I sincerely hope you have better success in securing specific answers" in the investigation of corruption in government "than I have had with my specific questions to you."

"Please know that I have never indicated I thought you to be a subversive individual," the senator wrote. "My concern grew out of the disturbing indication that you had been associated with a number of Communist front organizations without ever publicly denouncing and repudiating them at whatever time you may have learned of their disloyal purposes and policies."

Mundt made public both letters, which concluded with polite phrases and sharp quips. He ordered them published Monday in the Congressional Record.

The exchange was a prelude to Morris's scheduled testimony Tuesday before the Senate investigating subcommittee to explain his role as a lawyer for two shipping firms which hauled goods to Red China before and after the start of the Korean War in June, 1950.

Morris also was a lawyer for committee. He has said he will quiz Morris "at length" as to why the China International Foundation, Inc., which Morris heads, allowed its subsidiary, the United Tanker Corp., to haul oil to the Chinese Communists under Russian charter before the war started.

Morris also was a lawyer for China Trading and Industrial Development Corp., which hauled dry cargo to and from Communist China for six months after the conflict started.

Morris has been under fire on Capitol Hill—mainly from his fellow Republicans—almost from the moment President Truman named him on Feb. 1 to investigate graft and corrupt practice in the government.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan says that the present national emergency has pushed agriculture into a new phase of development in which the fertilizer industry will play its greatest role in history.

Scientists Increase Fertility Of Soil

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)

New York (P)—One of the great secrets, how nature makes fertile soil, has been discovered, imitated and improved by a team of scientific farmers.

Nature does it with a substance known by the vague name of humus, made by decaying vegetation of forests and plains. Nature takes thousands of years. The scientists farms do it in a few hours, by the ton, with synthetic chemistry.

A multimillion dollar chemical plant is building in Texas City, Tex., to produce this new synthetic in thousand-ton lots.

If this man-made humus—a yellow powder—becomes cheap enough, it will be one of the great agricultural achievements, ranking with the plow, harvesters, fertilizers, insecticides and hybrid breeding.

The new powder, krilium, is a behind their high test gas.

After the gasoline work, they left General Motors and established their own industrial research laboratory in Monsanto bought this laboratory a few years ago and made it the Monsanto research center.

Oustide Dayton both had farms. Dr. Thomas noticed that the land on one part of his farm grew much better crops than on the rest. Dr. Hochwalt noticed the same puzzling fact.

No Difference

It was puzzling because chemical analysis showed no difference in chemical qualities of the good and poor-yielding soils. But they found a striking difference in texture. The chemical tubes showed that natural humus made this difference.

The two chemists set out to make something as good or better than natural humus. This was in 1939. War interfered and Dr. Thomas became one of the atomic scientists—Hochwalt too. After the war the two, still farmers, and racing officials in Monsanto, a resin made from natural gas, ammonia and air by the Monsanto Chemical Company of St. Louis.

Like nature's humus, this resin binds microscopic particles of clay to build a soil structure like lace, whose threads are too fine to be seen without a microscope. In 24 hours this man-made lace changes worn-out, hard-baked clay soils into the structure of virgin land. Two-thirds of the United States' agricultural acres are this clay type.

President of Monsanto

The team of scientific farmers is a pair of six-foot, broad-shouldered, soft-spoken chemists, Dr. Charles A. Thomas, president of Monsanto, and Dr. Carroll Hochwalt, a vice-president.

This is not the first time this pair of unknowns has touched the lives of everyone in the United States. Many years ago they were on the team of chemists who made antiknock gasoline for General Motors. There is hardly a person in the country who has not ridden signed the soil research to a team of their Dayton men, headed by Dr. David T. Mowrey and Dr. Ross M. Hendrick.

These chemists first made a synthetic acrylic resin. Similar resins are modified by chemistry to make synthetic clothing of the wrinkle-proof, easy-to-clean type.

To imitate humus, the resin is changed into an electrolyte, a substance which can conduct electric current and which is decomposed by the current.

Scatter by Hand

When ready to remake your soil, choose a dry day and dry ground. You can scatter this powder by hand. The wind may raise swirls of yellow dust around you, but there is no choking and no bad effect.

The dust can be spread by harrows, discs or by power machines which blow it out of nozzles. If you are interested in quick grass or other plants, the seed can be mixed with the powder.

The powder has to be worked into the ground at a chosen depth, which usually is about three inches. Plow depth is possible, but it takes more powder.

The next and final step is to wet the earth, or wait for rain. Water dissolves the resin, which then reaches out with its electrical attraction to bind molecules of clay. After this union, water no longer has any effect.

Here is the first apparent improvement on nature. Her humus is eaten by bacteria and germs in the soil. It does not last indefinitely. Bugs and bacteria do not eat the man-made humus. The synthetic resin promises to last a great many years.

Holds Like Sponge

The man-made soil holds water like a sponge. Without becoming muddy, it holds about 30 per cent more water than the same soil before the magic powder.

Water does not evaporate so rapidly. The old caking of earth in dry seasons is gone. There is no hard top crust.

CROPS DAMAGED BY SPIDER MITE

BATON ROUGE, La. (P)—Louisiana 4-H Club boys gave farmers a lesson in how to grow corn in last year's corn production contest sponsored by the Chilean Nitrate Bureau and the Louisiana State University Agricultural Extension Service.

The extension service is doing research on last year's contest to help farmers get a better return per acre on their corn planting.

According to R. A. Wasson, extension agronomist, records completed this week show that the 23 year winners averaged 103 bushels to the acre, 79 more bushels than the average for the state.

Wasson said the boys obtained high yields by planting hybrids adapted to the locality, proper spacing, use of best soil preparation methods, and heavier applications of fertilizer.

He pointed out that corn growing costs about $15 an acre, but profits begin when the yield is above 25 bushels per acre.

Growers who skimp on fertilizer, seed, soil preparation and cultivation "actually lose money," he added.

Wasson reported that a high yield of 161.6 bushels and a profit of $206.61 was realized by contest first place winner Bobby Neumann of Madison parish on a single acre.

This contest is open to boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 22 years of age. Your County and Home Demonstration Agents have membership cards. These membership cards, when completed, make you a member of the N. J. V. G. A. The record books are sent to you. The same plot that you use for your 4-H gardening project can be used for your N. J. V. G. A. project. You must, however, fill in the membership card so that you will get the required record books.

This contest is not easy. Keen competition is encountered and a contestant must do a superior job to be a winner. The Production and Marketing Contest offers a challenge to you club members who want to prove your ability as vegetable producers.

In addition to the awards listed above, the contestant making the highest score in Louisiana will be awarded a free trip to the national convention which will be held in New York City in December.

Your County or Home Demonstration Agent will be glad to give you additional information about the N. J. V. G. A. Production and Marketing Contest.

LESS BOLL WEEVILS

The number of weevils found in hibernation at this time of the year does not necessarily mean that we may expect light weevil injury to the cotton crop during 1952, according to Kirby L. Cockeham, L. S. U. agricultural ex-

ten-ent entomologist. The number of weevils that will emerge from hibernation next spring will depend largely on the winter weather which prevails between now and spring. Another point that must not be overlooked is that rainy weather during the fruiting season of cotton usually means that boll weevils develop rapidly and damage to the crop may be expected, while hot, dry weather during that period retards weevil development.

DIXIE CO. GETS KBH DEALERSHIP

Dixie Liquid Fertilizer Co. has appointed a dealer for the new KBH Deepseal anhydrous ammonia applicator, manufactured by the KBH Corporation of Clarksdale, Miss.

KBH Deepseal is now sold by more than 25 dealers in eight states.

With the growing use of anhydrous ammonia in the cotton and corn sections of the South and other parts of the country where nitrogen is needed, many farmers have had trouble getting this fertilizer deep enough into the soil to prevent its escape as gas.

KBH Deepseal was developed to meet this need. It features a two-way hydraulic system that insures positive penetration of the applicator knives to any desired depth up to 12 inches—and in any kind of soil, the manufacturer declares. It also has special double triangle knife tips designed to scoop out an underground chamber for the ammonia, then seal it in. The frame fits any two-plow tractor.

"As soon as the cotton was up, I made two applications of toxaphene to control thrips. I started weevil control on June twentieth, using three-five-forty at five-day intervals until the weevils were under control. Later applications were made when necessary. The insecticides cost about fourteen dollars an acre."

Four acres of Mr. Filhiol's cotton crop were cultivated without hoeing at all except to cut down a few big weeds. Cost of cultivation on the four-acre demonstration plot was $7.10 per acre. He used chemicals and flame cultivation to control grass and weeds.

Mr. Filhiol harvested his crop with a cotton picker. He reports his grades as follows: Thirty-two bales middling and middling plus; 127 bales strict low middling, and 140 bales low middling. He says that he expects to use chemicals and flame cultivation on all his crop next season, in hope of not having to do any hoeing.

KBH has a number of other types of farm equipment in the design and testing stages. The company will concentrate on extra-strength machinery that is easy to operate.

LIVESTOCK NOTES

By JASPER J. JOYCE

(County Agent)

Big cotton yields are not uncommon in Ouachita Parish, but when a man makes 299 bales on 193 acres and cultivates and harvests that big a crop plus nine acres of corn with the aid of only four other men, that's still a good story.

J. B. Filhiol or near Monroe did exactly that in 1951 and thereby gave an outstanding demonstration of how modern methods can be used for economical cotton production in 1952.

Here's how Mr. Filhiol made his big crop:

"I prepared my seedbed by breaking the ground six inches deep with a tractor middle buster. The actual amount of plant food used was fifty pounds of nitrogen, forty-eight pounds of phosphorus, and fifty pounds of potash to the acre put in the water furrow before the soil was bedded. The crop was hoed two times and cultivated eight times, three of these cultivations being with a flamer.

First Baptist Church Of West Monroe Is Scene Of Beautiful Wedding Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Betty Jane Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Emmett Bennett and Walter Lowell Hastings, son of Mrs. Katie Ford Hastings, claimed the paramount attention of relatives and friends on March the seventh at seven o'clock. The First Baptist Church of West Monroe, where Miss Bennett and Mr. Hastings have attended all their lives, and their respective families before them, was the hallowed setting, and their pastor and close friend, Rev. Jaroy Weber, was the officiating minister of the sacred double-ring ceremony.

The church was aglow with myriads of cathedral tapers. The bridal flowers, column stock and majestic daisies, formed dramatic fan-shaped arrangements below the Baptistry and at either side of the chancel rail against a background of lush southern smilax. Down the center aisle, pews were marked at intervals with the chosen blossoms.

Mrs. Stewart Scott Jr., rendered a beautiful pre-nuptial organ concert and background melodies for the ceremony. She accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Bobby C. Wilson, in the numbers, "One Alone," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," as a Benediction. Mrs. Wilson possesses a rich and magnetic contralto voice and on this occasion her rendition was superb, as was that of her accompanist.

The guests were seated by the ushers in formal attire: Mr. Fred Bennett, Jr., the bride's brother; Mr. Jack McCook, Mr. Lee Edwards, Mr. Kent Anderson and Mr. Bob Carter.

Mrs. Ralph Riddle, Miss Bennett's close friend and college room-mate served as matron-of-honor. She wore a celestial blue frock of Point d'es petit net, very bouffant, with an ethereal stole. She carried a picture hat of honey-colored Italian straw. The dusk blue velvet band of the hat was encircled with fresh majestic daisies which cascaded down the streamers. Matching blue slippers completed the enchanting gown whose shades of blue were those of the heavenly spring skies, the wedding theme.

MRS. LEROY ANSPACH TO SING
HERE AT L. F. M. C. CONVENTION

Mrs. LeRoy Anspach, of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be among the guests attending the Louisiana Federation of Music Clubs' 1952 convention in Monroe on March 14 and 15. The Monroe convention hosts were delighted to learn that Mrs. Anspach, despite the demands of her busy professional career, would be able to accept their invitation to attend the Monroe convention and to sing at the white breakfast to be given Saturday, March 14, on the Virginia Hotel roof. The white breakfast, characterized by unusual beauty and dignity, is a traditional feature of both state and national federation conventions.

Mrs. Anspach, who was formerly Miss Eloise Temple of Monroe, began her voice training while quite young, as a student of Mrs. Estelle Sanders. She then studied for several years with Madame Louise Homer and Paul Althouse of New York. Since her marriage to LeRoy Anspach, well known pianist, she and her husband have been presented in many joint concerts throughout the south.

During the Anspach's residence in Chattanooga, Mrs. Anspach has continued her voice studies with Emry Land Wolff and her husband, Dr. Werner Wolff, former director of the Berlin Opera Company in Germany. Under their direction she sang roles in Chattanooga Opera Association productions of "Tales of Hoffman," "The Magic Flute," and "Faust."

In April of this year Mrs. Anspach is to be presented, with her being mailed.

planist husband in three joint concerts, and in May she will sing the role of the queen in the opera version of "Hamlet," written by Dr. Edwin Lindsay, head of the English department at the University of Chattanooga.

L. F. M. C. members, and particularly her many Monroe friends, look forward with much interest to hearing Mrs. Anspach on March 14.

Junior Charity League Members Enjoy March Luncheon Meeting

Decoration Theme Emphasizes Forthcoming Production Of The Annual Spring Suzari Marionette Show

"Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," the decorative motif of the March luncheon meeting of the Junior Charity League held Saturday at the Frances Hotel, attractively emphasized the theme of the forthcoming production of the annual spring Suzari Marionette show to be presented by the Junior Charity League March 19 at Neville auditorium. Brightly decorated Marionette characters from the famous Aesop fables were spaced at intervals down the table centers among clusters of purple magnolia buds, golden daffodils, and pieces of trailing English ivy. A thin vapor of incense escaped from Aladdin's magical lamp which sat atop a vine covered pedestal surrounded by a tight mass of daffodils in the center of the speaker's table.

The principal business of the meeting was the introduction of the new provisional members and the presentation of new officers for 1952. The outgoing president, Mrs. Morgan Simonton welcomed the new members and guests before handing the gavel to Mrs. John Dukkar. In a short speech expressing the thanks of the Junior Charity League for her outstanding services as president during the past year, Dr. Peggy Conn presented Mrs. Simonton with a sterling silver Revere bowl bearing a monogrammed old English "S" and with the words, Junior Charity League, 1951, inscribed on the bottom. The new officers introduced by Mrs. Dukkar were: vice-president, Mrs. Roy Johns; treasurer, Miss Magdalene Amman; finance, Mrs. Corbin Turpin; assistant finance, Mrs. Edwin Rowan; placement, Mrs. James Moore; stone; milk fund, Mrs. J. Nalda Averett; 1st assistant, Mrs. Hoy Anders; 2nd assistant, Mrs. William Gannaway; charity hospital, Mrs. Bailey Grant; crippled children's clinic, Mrs. Charles Searey; clothes, Mrs. Leo Terzia, Jr.; Charlors, Mrs. Lon Hauer; Public Relations, Mrs. Credille Calhoun.

The new provisional members present were: Miss Tommie Sue Eaves, Mrs. J. R. Eunson, Mrs. Larry Fox, Mrs. Harry Frazer, Jr., Mrs. Fred Frazier, Mrs. Robert George, Mrs. James Gates, Mrs. Raymond Johns, Mrs. Richard Kellogg, Mrs. Roy Meek, Mrs. Dan Moore, Mrs. Jack Taylor, and Miss Sara Terzia. Mrs. Charles Sless and Mrs. John Oakland were unable to attend.

Miss Margaret Ann Harris Is Bride Of Huey P. Franklin

In a lovely home setting was the wedding Saturday evening, March 1, at 7 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harris in Urania, when their daughter, Margaret Ann, became the bride of Huey P. Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cicerio J. Franklin of Olla, La.

The Rev. D. R. Deen of Vidalia, former Methodist pastor in Urania performed the single-ring ceremony before the fireplace banked with magnolia foliage with floor baskets of pink gladioli and maiden hair fern placed on either side. The mantel held an arrangement of pink gladioli and fern with tall white tapers in crystal candelabra at each side.

White iris and bridal wreath looped with white tulle were used on the piano, along with white tapers.

Mrs. A. M. Johnston, pianist, rendered a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss Edna Mae Chumley, who sang "Because" and "Always."

Mrs. Huel Harris of Tullos served as matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a floor length gown of amber taffeta and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and candytuft tied with white satin streamers and a halo of white candytuft and ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely wearing a ballerina length gown of ice-blue lace and net over taffeta.

The tight fitting bodice fastened down the back with self covered buttons, with the low rounded neck forming cap sleeves. Her small off-the-face hat of blue straw cloth was trimmed with tiny white flowers and a touch of veiling.

Her short gloves were of matching nylon. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations and candytuft, from which fell satin streamers. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls.

Mr. Huel Harris of Tullos served the groom as best man.

A reception was held following the wedding.

The bride's table was covered with a cream lace cloth, with tiny sprays of bridal wreath tied with white satin bows dotting the sides.

At the center back was an arrangement of white bridal wreath and white iris, from which hung small wedding bells tied with tulle. Tall white tapers in silver holders burned on either side.

Mrs. Jimmie Kees served the cake, which was three-tiered, embossed in white rose buds and topped with a miniature bride and groom. At the opposite end of the table, Miss Carol May served the punch from a crystal bowl.

Mrs. Jimmie Kees also presided at the bride's book. All serving in the reception were former classmates of the bride and were lovely in formal gowns.

Mrs. Harris chose for her daughter's wedding a lilac, two piece crepe dress and she wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

The grandmother Harris was attired in grey crepe dress and her corsage was of pink carnations.

On leaving, the bride was wear-

The great novel, "Quo Vadis," will be reviewed by the Rev. Dennis A. Curren Wednesday, March 18th at 7:30 p.m. at St. Matthew's gymnasium - auditorium. The review will be sponsored by the St. Anne's Circle.

The author, Henry Sienkiewicz, generally is regarded as Poland's literary genius, but nothing he ever wrote has approached the enormous popularity of this great story.

The American publishing house of Little, Brown and Company had been publishing translations of Sienkiewicz's books for several years and so in 1896 the firm came out with its first printing of "Quo Vadis" ("Whither Goest Thou?").

The author gives pictures of opening scenes in the conflict of moral ideas with the Roman Empire, a conflict from which Christianity issued as the leading force in history.

"Quo Vadis" brings out boldly the conflict between paganism and Christianity during the reign of Nero 54-68 A.D. Nero, the cruel insane Emperor who began to rule at the age of 18, was fond of art and ridiculously vain of his skill in music and poetry. His lack of principle and his phobias led him to crime and tyranny and caused him to poison his half brother and become not only a fratricide but also a matricide.

The book was the number one best seller in the United States for 25 years after its publication and helped win its author the Nobel Prize in Literature. Metro-Goldwyn Mayer spent seven million dollars in making the current picture, most of which was filmed in Rome. This great picture will be shown at the Tem Theatre shortly after Easter.

Prom

Home Permanent Gives Better Wave!

NEEDS NO NEUTRALIZER!

Only home permanent that neutralizes automatically and gives you a just-right lotion for your type of hair

Your PROM will look prettier and last longer than any other home permanent. The way your wave looks and the way your wave lasts depends on the neutralizing—so it's wonderful news that now for the first time you can get perfect neutralizing by PROM's new automatic method!

Even if other permanents have failed, PROM is guaranteed to "take" beautifully every time—or your money back! That's because PROM comes in three different types. You can't expect the same lotion to give best results with all types of hair. So remember PROM is the only home permanent that comes with a just-right lotion for your type of hair.

Longer-lasting end curls! With ordinary waves, you have to dab neutralizer on the outside of the curl, and if it doesn't penetrate to the inside, you get hardly any curl in those important ends. That can't happen with PROM! Because PROM neutralizes the entire curl automatically and perfectly every time!

No neutralizer! Only one lotion to use. Easy as A-B-C! A—Apply PROM waving lotion and roll up your curls in the usual way, using any plastic curlers. B—A little later, rinse with plain water. C—Let your hair dry naturally on the curlers and you have a PROM—a wave that looks prettier and lasts longer!

Only PROM comes in 3 types for different types of hair
 ① PROM Super
 For hard-to-wave hair or a "curlier" wave. (Wonderful for children's resistant hair!)
 ② PROM Regular
 For normal-to-wave hair. Gives soft, natural-looking wave that is far longer-lasting.
 ③ PROM Very Gentle
 For easy-to-wave hair. Perfect for bleached or tinted hair, for hair with slight natural curl.

Use with any plastic curlers!

You'll Look Prettier with a Prom!

Highlights of the program will be the presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship fund. A representative from each Troop will take the troop offering in a small yellow bag to the stage, where she will place it in a large yellow bag, labeled "Coins for Friendship Around the World". In most cases the girls and leaders contribute a penny for each year of their ages.

Of course, a birthday calls for a birthday cake, so each troop will light a candle on a decorated cake. Girls from junior high troops will have the speaking parts on the program and will act as ushers. Younger intermediate troops will form the two choruses which will lead the singing under the direction of Ethel Easterling. It's a wonderful time for all the folks in Scouting to gather together, and one we look forward to each year.

In trying to live up to the fourth Girl Scout Law, a girl learns about her sister Scouts in other lands. Just learning isn't enough, though, for active Scouts. Learning must be followed by doing.

Girls of Troop 10 are busy collecting clothes which they will send to Greece. This project resulted from a visit to the troop by Mrs. Tom Johnson.

Troop 11 has been trying the plan of dividing into patrols according to interests, each patrol working on a different badge. One group, with Mrs. Seymour Solomon and Mrs. G. E. Boggs as advisers, has worked on Hostess badge. The girls have made trips to the home economics department at Neville High School and to homes to learn about flat silver and to practice table setting. They have acted as hostesses for several troop affairs, including a hike last Saturday at our camp. They are also planning a tea for some future date.

Drawing and painting badge has been chosen by another patrol with Mrs. Paul Blackman as adviser. This group has been to the Art Shop, where Mr. Spicafora helped the girls to learn about materials. They have spent several troop meetings following this hobby.

With Mrs. Frank Smith as adviser, another group has chosen wild flowers as their badge. A very timely activity, with blues and spring beauties underfoot. Mrs. Smith says the girls were surprised to learn that clover and blooms on weeds are also flowers. In no time at all, the girls have learned at least twenty-five flowers and have made a trip notebook containing specimens. An interesting sidelight we heard came from one of the mothers who jokingly complained that she couldn't walk down the street without looking down to see if she could see a different flower under her feet.

That's what happens in good Scouting. It rubs off on all associated with Scouts.

We'll expect you next Sunday at Ouachita Parish High at 3:00 o'clock.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Use of the Ouachita Parish Public Library system is growing every month. During the month of February, which was the shortest month of the year, 25,322 books were borrowed from the four branches of the library. At the same time there was a gain in circulation of 212 people. More and more adults are turning to the library for help with problems that come up in their private and business life. If there is any subject on which you want information, try the library. If we do not have a book in our collection, that fills your needs, we can borrow it from the Louisiana State Library in Baton Rouge. New books are added to the library every week. In the month of February 300 new books were added, giving the library a total book collection of 34,424 books.

Anthony Trollope is one of the great names in English literature. A novel of his which has been published in America for the first time is "Rachel Way." This is a book for the serious reader, who does not expect all of the action of a modern day story. In direct contrast to Trollope is the science-fiction which is so popular at the present time. "The Galaxy Reader of Science Fiction," ed. by H. L. Gold, This is a large volume containing a number of science-fiction stories.

Biographies are always popular with patrons of the library. "I Never Grew Up" by Cobina Wright, Sr., is a hilarious autobiography.

"My Life's History" by Grandma Moses is a charming account of this remarkable woman, who began to paint after she was an old lady. "The Best of the Best American Short Stories," ed. by Martha Foley is a collection taken from her yearly collections. It will be of great interest to readers of the short story. "Fourteen Men" by Arthur Schlesier is a fascinating adventure story of a group of men from Australia, who made a trip to the Antarctic regions.

The books mentioned above may be borrowed anywhere in the Ouachita Parish Public Library system. If you are not a user of the library, don't put it off any longer, but come and register tomorrow.

Members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. N. Coon, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. Gaston Eikel, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. W. H. Giles, Mrs. R. R. Griffith, Mrs. A. S. FIFTH DISTRICT OF L. F. W. C.
WILL HOLD SPRING CONFERENCE

The Fifth District of the Louisian Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their spring conference Saturday, March 29th in Rayville, with the Rayville and Oak Ridge clubs, hostesses.

Mrs. L. R. Westerburg, president, urges all clubs to make plans now for a large representation as this is an important district meeting, bringing to a close the triennial administration. As this is election year, members are asked to have their delegates ready.

Fish Frequent Food
Choice During Lent

With the start of the season of Lent, each year, the menus of many in Ouachita parish undergo a change. Fish takes over the feature place more frequently; and homemakers look to both fresh and frozen fish to fill many mealtime needs.

Mrs. Swift, city home demonstration agent of the L. S. U. extension service, points out that there is a wide variety of fish available this year; and good shoppers in many sections of New England will have considerable choice at the counters. But as usual at this time of the year, supplies of fresh fish are much smaller than the offerings of frozen fish.

During the Lenten season, food shoppers frequently find higher prices on the various fish offerings, as the demand for fish increases. This year should be no time when some type of fish is not a good buy.

There are also large supplies of canned tuna fish. But sardines and salmon aren't plentiful enough to meet usual demands. There are ample offerings of salt fish and smoked fillets for those who prefer the cured fish.

Mrs. Swift urges food shoppers to select fish carefully. Look for fish that has bright, clear eyes, with gills that are uniform. Look for fish that has a bright reddish-pink color, with scales that are bright and shiny and that adhere closely to the skin. In buying frozen fish, check to see if the fish is frozen solid, and if the package is tightly sealed.

Camellia Club Meets At The Home Of Mrs. A. D. Wallace

The Camellia Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. A. D. Wallace with Mrs. J. R. Freeman as co-hostess. The dining table was attractive with a beautiful arrangement of camellias. Another unusual display was an arrangement of blossoms of Christ-mas cactus.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Wm. Hochstetler. Mrs. Olla Mae Passman in giving the horticulture report advised putting out any shrub that you may have forgotten last month. Roses may be planted or pruned. Don't trim flowering shrubs until after they bloom.

Spray now with Bordeaux. Mrs. pour around the shrub. This is also good for azaleas and camellias.

Use Black Leaf Forty and oil emulsion as a spray in the spring for insects. Be sure to force spray underneath foliage and on top. Mrs. McHenry cautioned her listeners not to cover their shrubs against frost as this causes plants to sweat.

Camellias and azaleas as well as gardenias need well drained soil and should be protected by shade.

The Pink Perfection camellia is the most difficult to grow while the Mary E. M. is the easiest. She advised not to work around azaleas or camellias but with mulch with pine straw, peat moss and old rotten leaves. Fertilize with cottonseed meal. Spray after blooming with volk and water during summer months.

The meeting was adjourned and

MISS VIRGINIA ERWIN IS

BRIDE OF JAMES M. EATMON

TALLULAH. La., Mar. 3—(Special)—At the Methodist Church here on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, Miss Virginia Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whit Erwin became the bride of Sergeant James M. Eatmon of Baton Rouge, son of Mrs. W. C. Ferring of Winnsboro and the late Mr. Eatmon. The impressive double wedding ceremony was read by the Rev. W. H. Bengton, parson of the Methodist Church of Winnsboro in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Tall white baskets filled with white gladioli and asparagus fern, potted palms and burning cathedral candles formed the effective decorations for the marriage scene. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. J. C. Sherwin preceding the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Miss Ann Erwin, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of taffeta faille in the shade of ashes of roses made with fitted bodice, full skirt and a matching lace bolero. She carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and heather. The flower girl, little Francene Nixon, wore a costume identical with that of the maid of honor with similar flowers in her hair. She carried a rose colored basket of rose petals which were dropped in the path-way of the bride.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a white wedding gown of a sheer nylon fabric fashioned with high neckline, lace voile in the back and shoulders and closing at the top with a small collar and self covered buttons. The tapering sleeves fastened at the wrist with buttons were made with points over the hands. The full floor length skirt was attached to the fitted bodice and the veil of embroidered silk net fell from a corset of orange blossoms and green leaves and extended the entire length of the dress. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid. Of sentimental interest was the fact that the quaint and attractive bridal dress had been worn by a close friend, a war bride of Vienna, Austria, at her wedding there before she came to America to make her home and now resides in Winnsboro.

The Urania Home Demonstration Club Has March Meeting

The Urania Home Demonstration Club met Monday afternoon March 3, in the social room of the Baptist church, with Mrs. Claud Chapman and Mrs. Jim Carter as hostesses.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Howard K. Ray, the vice-president, Mrs. Quincy Cornwell opened the meeting. The secretary, Mrs. Lillian Holloway read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll, which was answered by naming your favorite hat.

After a short report of committee work, Mrs. Harry Nichols, nutrition leader, gave a talk on "Vegetables", opening her talk by asking, "Are you tired of the same old vegetables?" She said "Well you should not be, for there are fifty varieties of known vegetables."

Mrs. W. C. Procter, clothing leader, gave a talk on materials and advised reading the labels on garments before buying.

This was the day the members were to trim a hat, but due to the absence of Mrs. Maxine Reeves, Home Demonstration agent, and the fact that some of the millinery supplies had not arrived, the "Hat Trimming" was postponed until March 24 when Mrs. Reeves will be here for an all-day meeting. Members are to bring a luncheon to the Baptist church on that date.

Mrs. Herbert May, who was a delegate to the Hat Show held recently in Jena, showed several hats which had been cleaned, dyed and retrimmed. She gave a short talk on the subject. Farmerville P.T.A. Has Monthly Meeting

With a special program and silent tea the Farmerville Parent-Teacher Association paid tribute to the founders of their organization at their February meeting on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20, in the high school auditorium. Mrs. John Eldred as narrator gave a very interesting account of Mrs. Alice Birney from Georgia and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst from Missouri, whose pathways crossed in Washington, D. C. with result that on February 18, 1927, they founded the National Congress of Mothers, as the P.T.A. was then called. To lend vividness to the story, these ladies were realistically portrayed by Mrs. Stein Baumgardner and Mrs. Ingram Ballard, wearing typical costumes of that era.

Mr. Breland also attends Southeastern and is majoring in music. He is a member of the Baton Rouge Symphony Orchestra.

The wedding will take place during the early part of June.

First Meeting Was Last December 21; Gave Aid To Goodfellows

Cubbers of pack 34 have been busy since their reorganization. Their first pack meeting was held December 21, 1951. None of the boys received awards at that time. They displayed painted and repaired toys which were donated to them by Lida Benton P.T.A. members. One of the highlights of February was a visit to Cooperative Dairies by cubbers of den 1 and 2. Besides learning how the dairy receives and bottles milk they were given all the chocolate milk they wanted.

The regular pack meeting for February was combined with blue and gold banquet celebrating 42nd anniversary of scouting. The banquet was beautiful with the blue and gold cake given by Mr. Bragg co-owner of Dixie Pastry Shop. Place cards made by the boys were wagons of marshmallow and mints with blue and gold flowers as center pieces. All parents attended. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Golson, Mrs. W. F. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Lea, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Ferrington.

A Mother-In-Law Speaks

Woman Gives Her Formula For Success In The Role

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: Accept my five cents worth on this perennial mother-in-law problem taken from the book of life. I am a mother and a mother-in-law to six men and women, and I think I can truly say I am welcome in each of their respective homes. I was widowed at 63, and am now past 75. After the last child was married I sold the family home and bought a simple two-room cottage, new and modern, near the church and shopping center. I kept my books, my car, my sewing machine and have a nice little yard to cultivate.

I go among my children in times of joy and of stress, always glad to help out when another understanding woman is a godsend in the house. When the occasion passes, I am glad to go back to the quiet and routine of my own home, and I do not feel hurt to know that they, too, are happy to be all alone by themselves. I have resolved never to carry tales or offer advice unless it is asked for. I like to take over the care of the house and the children and let the girls have an evening or a few days off with their husbands. I do not consider they are making a baby-sitter of me, but rather that they are according me a place as a loved member of the family.

By keeping up a life of my own, independent of the children, they do not feel I am a weight about their necks, depending on them for life and entertainment. I keep up with my old friends, cultivate my new neighbors, read, keep a nice yard and go to a good show occasionally. The children know I am never home just chewing my nails and feeling sorry for myself. My means are limited and I am constantly receiving gifts of things I can use or such money as they can give.

The press and radio do a disservice to young folks, playing up the predatory mother-in-law. They go into marriage with their guards up, ready to take offense where none is intended. Truly there are many women who are glad to hand over their children to good partners and do everything they can to promote the stability and happiness of marriage.

MRS. H. K.

ANSWER: The whole secret of your success, Mrs. H. K., is that you have grown—and are growing—emotionally and intellectually with each birthday. May God send you many more! You have accepted each responsibility as it came—wife, mother, mother-in-law, grandmother—and discharged it in a fine, capable, vigorous fashion.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE

Few women achieve the complete fulfillment you have. What a happy world it would be if your example were emulated by more of them. If, instead of whining for the pleasures of a lost youth, they were content to enjoy the richness of the present! Surround ed, as you are, by the thrills of the spirit—your church, your books—and the material things—a car, a machine, a yard—that help to make a full life, you have learned to make your own pleasures and pastimes without being dependent on the constant attentions of your children.

Of course you have been blessed by God with the fundamentals that make your pleasant life possible. You have health, and a sufficiently good financial background to make you independent. But, of course, these things would avail nothing if you didn't also possess common sense, tolerance, good humor and faith.

Perhaps too much stress is placed on the domineering, trouble-making mother-in-law, but her number, though small in comparison with the mothers who do try to do a good job as in-laws, is still large enough to warrant frequent warnings. It is true, and encouraging, however, that each generation sees a smaller percentage of mothers who balk at the thought of acquiring daughters-in-law. The modern woman is becoming more self-sufficient, more alive to the many opportunities around her for activity.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm in love with a boy I've known for seven years. Recently he married another girl and I can't forget him. I'm 18 and he's 24. Do you think I'll ever get him back?

SHIRLEY K.

ANSWER: I realize how heart sick you are, and how tragic life is to you at the moment, but you will never make things better by yearning over a man who belongs to someone else. It seems impossible, I know, but you must stop thinking of him all the time, and look around for another beau. Whatever you do, don't make any attempt to continue seeing this boy. He's out of your life now, and you'll be committing a great wrong if you try to break up his marriage. Even if he should want to go out with you, prove yourself the stronger and refuse.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 14 years old and very much in love with a boy 16. We are planning to be married in two or three years. About a week ago, I went to the place where Eddie works and his boss told me he had taken another girl, named Ada, out. When I asked Eddie about it, he admitted he had taken her out and kissed her. The girl is engaged, too, so I don't see why she couldn't leave my boy friend alone.

SALLY IRENE

ANSWER: First of all, you're too young to be so seriously involved with Eddie or any other boy. Secondly, if he has so little will power that he's going to be easy prey for every girl who looks at him, he's not what you want. Always remember, a man who can't be trusted as a friend or a fiance will never be a faithful husband. You certainly don't want to go through life worrying about the Adas of this world, so let Eddie know that you're no longer interested in him.

'ANGELUS HOUR' IN AFRICAN LAND

At Sunset Many Observe Prayer Period With Deep Reverence

When Dr. Eugene L. Smith, executive secretary of the division of foreign missions, Methodist Church was in Africa in 1940, attending conferences and visiting missionary and national leaders and centers, there seemed to "spring up, out of the people themselves, a desire to continue the fellowship thus begun." A small group decided to dedicate a given moment each day to prayer for the missionaries, for the people they serve, and for the cause of Christ upon earth.

And from this beginning—mostly out of the hearts of the African Christians themselves—there grew what is now known as the "Angelus Hour." At 6 p. m. daily some thousands of persons, in a score of lands, cease from their routine labors and pray for others. The story of the "hour" has been told in India, in South America, in Korea, and elsewhere—told without fanfare, without organization, without publicity aid—just by word of mouth from Christian to Christian. Thousands in America and around the world observe the hour of 6 p.m. praying wherever they are.

In Mozambique, Central Africa, they say, "Pray at sunset with the angels." From Katako Kombe, Central Congo, comes the report: "The missionaries here meet on Katako Kombe hilltop for the Angelus hour. As we pray, it is good to realize the larger family fellowship of like-minded Christians around the world. In hours like these we can help bear the burdens of our Korean brothers and others who suffer."

"The Angelus fellowship is being observed by various groups in India," says Principal Marvin Harper, of Leonard Theological College, of Baroda, India. "It has become a regular part of the campus life at Leonard. Each day at sunset there sounds out over the campus the tones of a beautiful Bumese gong which had been presented to the college by former students and a faculty member living in Burma. At the call, activity all over the campus ceases; the players on the football field pause in their places; students at work in their home gardens pause; the members of the faculty stop their meeting; student wives in their kitchens lift their pans off the fire and pause; even the children stop their swinging; their rope skipping—all closing their eyes and folding their hands in the characteristic Indian gesture of prayer."

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Glass had as their guests Sunday, Mr. Odie Fomby, of Brownsville, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Glass of Haile and Mr. Jesse Fomby of Brownsville. Miss Sally Barham spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Drutt Barham at Brownsville.

Mrs. Nellyn Dean has gone to Great Falls, Mont., to join Mr. Dean, who is stationed at Air Force Base there.

Mr. T. C. Camp and daughters, Mignon and Mortene, of Greenville, Tex., spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller and other relatives.

Mrs. J. C. White and daughter, Miss Ruby, spent the weekend at Junction City with Mr. and Mrs. A. Foil and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Nelson.

silence, caused South to wind up at an apparently unmakeable contract of three no-trump.

"South's heart (the seven, to be specific) sank when West led the king of hearts. But East followed suit with the four of hearts instead of beginning an un-block with the nine. West continued with the ace of hearts, but now there was nothing that East could do to un-block the suit. He was obliged to win the third round of the suit with the ten.

"East then went into a deep study and finally returned the eight of clubs. South could count eight tricks if all went well—five spades, two diamonds, and a club—and therefore needed a second club trick for his contract.

"He knew he was down three if West got the lead, so he put up the ace of clubs. Great was the fall thereon. Now, when the spades produced five tricks, South had ten tricks on a hand that should have been set."

The hand was very neatly played by South. He needed two club tricks, but not necessarily the first two. If the ace of clubs dropped only small cards in the suit, he could continue with a low club.

If East had the king of clubs, he could take the trick but would who also is program chairman.

Greatest Mother of them all!

True in 1918 . . . True today!

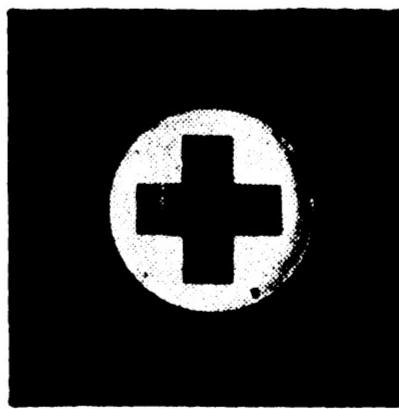

The Red Cross is a volunteer organization made up of millions; remembered by millions as "The Greatest Mother of Them All."

Yes, the Red Cross is that . . . and more. It is a helping hand to those made homeless by storm and flood. It is plasma for the wounded, cheerful hours for disabled veterans, a touch of home for soldiers on foreign fields. It is a symbol of American compassion and warmth and generosity. It is you . . . doing what you would do if you were there.

SPEAKS AT P.T.A. MEETING

Mrs. J. P. Causey, president of the Oak Ridge P.T.A., and Miss Parvin Torfeh, Fulbright scholar from Teheran, Iran, shown before a recent meeting of the Oak Ridge P.T.A. Miss Torfeh is a student at the University of Minnesota.

are no insurance against the glares of tomorrow. . . Remembers prive her of sweets? Or keep her the original version of Milton from going to a party? She did Berle's jokes. . . Is high - hatted, not. Said this modern mama: "If by the industry's big-shots because you can't be good, I'll tell daddy they know that he knew them when". . . Can laugh philosophically at today's bad publicity in the sure knowledge that the public forgets overnight. . . Compares every new screen siren with Pola Negri, Theda Bara and Barbara La Marr.

. . . Is willing to waive billing in favor of paychecks. . . Smiles while reading what the famous beauty said about her new husband because he remembers when she said the same about her other husbands. . . Hears in the inconsequential babble of today's glamour girls the inconsequential babble of the forgotten hundreds who preceeded them.

A publicity dispatch from 20th Century Fox advises me that the studio needs, for certain sequences in "Pony Soldier," four or five bald Indians to portray braves who have been scalped. It also advises me that the search, to date, has been a failure since Indians have a racial immunity to baldness. Well, maybe - but I remember a laugh gleaned on the set where a Shirley Temple picture involving Indians was being filmed some 15 years ago. The director, a stickler for authenticity, had imported Redmen from a Montana reservation because his Indians had to have long hair and he didn't want Hollywood Indians rigged out in anything so un-authentic as wigs. During the filming of the first scene in which the braves from the faraway reservation worked, one of them had an accident. His wig fell off, and exposed a dome as bald as the proverbial egg.

Here's still another sign of our changing times. Mona Freeman's four-year-old daughter was being a bit uppity the other day.

Bob Thomas IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 — There's an item in the publicity barrage today that whets an old curiosity of mine. It reports that Columbia Pictures is going to remake "One Night of Love," and that a young singer named Gloria Krieger (she's only 19) is being considered for the role played by the late Grace Moore.

Believe me, I have no beef against Miss Krieger, whom I've never seen nor heard. For all I know, she may prove to be the great new star the screen needs so desperately. But even so, I can't help wondering why Columbia wants to remake "One Night of Love" when there are millions and still more millions of Grace Moore fans who would cheerfully pay premium prices to see the "One Night of Love" that has been gathering dust on the film vault shelves for the past twelve years.

After Grace Moore's tragic death in that European plane crash, an avalanche of letters, all earnestly begging for reissuance of her best picture poured in on Columbia. Trade papers editorialized about the public clamor for it; exhibitors begged for a chance to replay it. And Harry Cohen, Columbia's "big boss," stubbornly turned a deaf ear to all the entreaties. No one, insofar as I know, has ever heard an explanation of his decision.

Once in a coon's age there is a picture which becomes the peculiar, personal property of its star. "One Night of Love" was such a picture, possibly because its plot paralleled Miss Moore's own fabulous career so closely that she lived her role rather than played it. I must have seen it at least half a dozen times. Yet as I think of it now it is her tremendous personality, rather than any one of the songs she sang that stands out in my memory. Others, I feel sure, must have had the same reaction.

I don't think it's fair to Gloria Krieger, if she's as promising a find as they say she is, to launch her screen career in a picture so completely fused with the public's memory of Grace Moore.

Idol Chatter: What a wall paper was lost to the world when the lady who designs Marilyn Monroe's gowns turned modish. . . Add Hollywood champions: Lorraine Day, canasta player extraordinary. . . Both romantically and professionally, it looks like life begins at Ginger Rogers' age - whatever that is. . . Some people watch the antics of the ground hog to determine spring's arrival; experienced Hollywoodites merely watch Gary Cooper's reaction to a display of fishing tackle in a store window. . . Silly notion: Shelley Winters cherishing a secret passion. . . According to Groucho Marx too many girls who fish for compliments haven't the proper bait.

She takes command of the scene.

"Also, a bad girl has more range of emotion. She can be sweet and lovable and she can be a spifire. That kind of a role gives you more chance to show what you can do."

Susan has nothing but praise for

Shelley Winters, which is a new Cattlemen Conduct Meeting in Vidalia for these days. "She tried to help me all she could on the picture," Susan declared. "We even went double-dating to the night clubs, and Shelley tried to get the photographers to take my picture, too. I think she's wonderful!" . . .

Mail bag: Mrs. Peter J. Baum of East Chicago, Ind., sides with the Italian actress who blasted Hollywood's over-50 male stars.

"A younger man doesn't have to huff and puff to show his steam when kissing," says Mrs. Baum. "His age alone can stir a girl close to his age. The oldtimers have to work doubly hard at it, and I'll bet they are plenty tired at the end of their working day!"

Anybody care to argue? . . . Universal International, which consistently gives the other studios lessons in how to sell pictures, tossed a party last weekend for its new film, "Steeltown." The studio took members of the press through the Kaiser steel mill in Fontana, Calif., where much of the picture was filmed. Then followed a dinner and premiere at the Arrowhead Springs Hotel, attended by the film's stars, John Lund, Ann Sheridan and Howard Duff.

Mrs. Duff was along, too, but playing the part of the little mother. Instead of her usual role as Ida Lupino.

The number of U. S. farms declined from 6,800,000 in 1935 to 5,380,000 in 1950.

FERRIDAY, La., Mar. 8 (Special)—A cattlemen's meeting was held at Vidalia at the courthouse on Friday afternoon and a large crowd attended.

C. B. Haddon, of St. Joseph, superintendent of the north Louisiana experiment station, spoke on pasture work at the station. T. H. Miliken talked on beef production and pasture management and Dr. L. W. Knight, district veterinarian discussed diseases among cattle and told how his work fitted into the production of cattle in Concordia parish.

Those present also expressed their interest in the expansion and development of the cattle industry in the parish and expressed their thanks and appreciation to the speakers.

AS "ICY" STARK'S EXPEDITION FLIES INTO THE ARCTIC TO TRACK DOWN THE MYSTERIOUS FORCE THAT IS COOLING THE SUN'S RAYS, THE NORTHERN LIGHTS BUILD UP A FURIOUS ELECTRONIC STORM. THE ROCKET LURCHES WILDLY IN THE TURBULENT AIR, BUT FLASH AND STARK MANAGE TO KEEP THEIR SHIP UNDER CONTROL AS THEY SEARCH FOR A LANDING.

SUDDENLY A CLEAR PATCH OF ICE LOOMS BELOW AND THE GIANT SHIP IS SET DOWN SAFELY. "ALL HANDS OUT-SIDE TO MAKE TESTS," STARK ORDERS. BUT FLASH IS CHAGRINED TO FIND THAT HE IS LEFT STANDING IDLY BY WITH NO TASK ASSIGNED TO HIM.

REALIZING THAT STARK STILL RESENTS HIS PRESENCE, FLASH DECIDES TO RECONNOITER ON HIS OWN. HE AND DALE HAVE HARDLY LEFT THE MAIN PARTY WHEN THEY SENSE A THREAT. "I'M SURE WE'RE BEING WATCHED, DALE!" FLASH WHISPERS. "WAIT HERE."

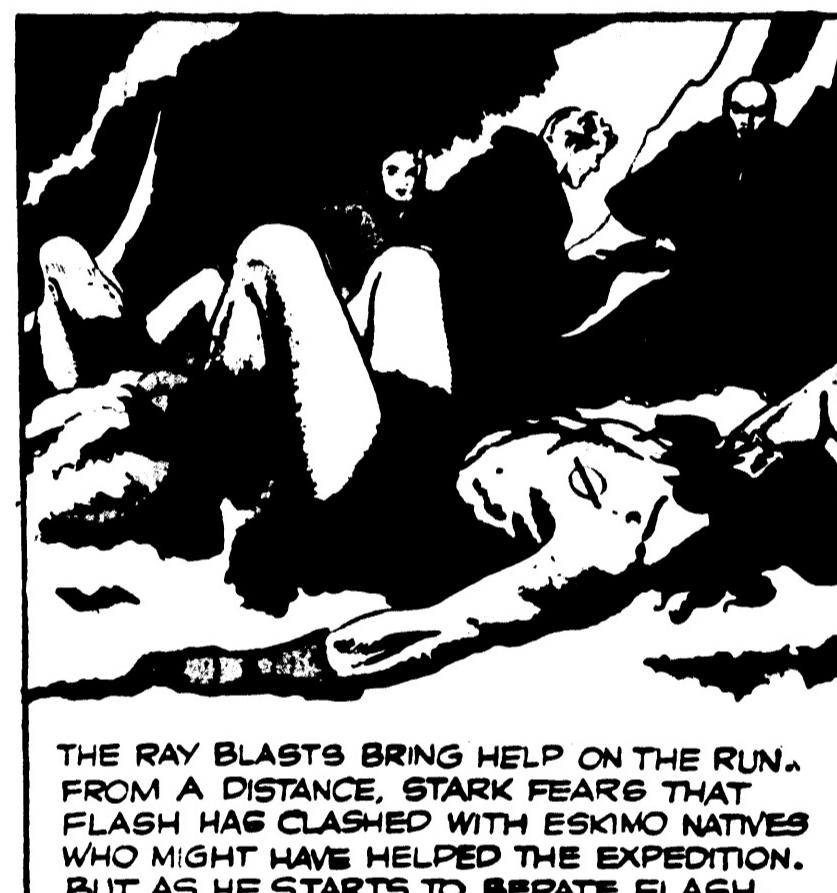

STROLLING FORWARD WITH FEIGNED CASUALNESS, FLASH SUDDENLY WHIRLS. BEHIND HIM LOOM TWO GIANT FIGURES -- MEN FROM ANOTHER WORLD! SWIFTLY THE TWO STRANGERS REACH FOR THEIR WEAPONS!

Cop. 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

A SHOWER OF FIERY SPARKS GRAZES FLASH AS HE WHIPS HIS OWN NEUTRON GUN INTO ACTION. THE TWO GIANTS TOPPLE TO THE ICE, BUT THEY ARE ONLY STUNNED BY THE RAYS WHICH WOULD HAVE BEEN LETHAL TO AN EARTHMAN.

THE RAY BLASTS BRING HELP ON THE RUN. FROM A DISTANCE, STARK FEARS THAT FLASH HAS CLASHED WITH ESKIMO NATIVES WHO MIGHT HAVE HELPED THE EXPEDITION. BUT AS HE STARTS TO BERATE FLASH, HE SPOTS A STRANGE SYMBOL ON THE CHEST OF ONE OF GIANTS.. "I BELIEVE," FLASH SAYS GRIMLY, "YOUR ESKIMOS' CAME FROM THE PLANET SATURN!"
